Barry Seems Set to Run in Pennsylvania

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater said today he will not call off supporters' efforts to enter presidential nomination delegates in the April 28 Pennsylvania primary.

Pennsylvania's Republican governor, William W. Scranton, is reportedly disturbed by the move.

But Goldwater, Arizona Republican who has delayed any announcement of his intention to seek the party's 1964 presidential nomination, said he cannot control his supporters in the key state of Pennsylvania which will have 62 votes toward the 655 needed for victory in the GOP nominating convention.

"I am not a candidate for the presidential nomination and there is nothing I can do about what my friends in Pennsylvania may undertake," Goldwater said in an interview.

"If they want to enter delegates in the primary that's none of my business. I certainly won't discourage them or take any part one way or the other."

Scranton, who looks with apprehension on Goldwater's unannounced but blossoming bid for the presidential nomination, has arranged to confer with Goldwater Wednesday.

Foremost on the governor's mind is a wait-and-see program for Pennsylvania's feuding Republicans. This would entail the governor's heading a favorite ticket of delegates which would go to the San Francisco convention uncommitted to any major candidate.

Mentioned as a possible dark horse in the race, the governor was pictured by associates as striving for party unity in the state.

Goldwater said it was too far away for him to say whether his name might be entered in the Pennsylvania popularity contest for the presidential nomination. Anyone whose name is entered without his consent in that contest could withdraw in writing if he acted before Feb. 25.

This deadline would come two weeks before the March 10 New Hampshire primary in which Goldwater's friends expect him to be pitted against New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Cambodians Don't Want U.S. Aid

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—Thousands of cheering Cambodians yelled their approval today for Prince Norodom Sihanouk's plan to end all U.S. aid by the end of the year.

"Go home, Yankee" posters bloomed as the prince, Cambodia's chief of state, assembled his supporters for a mass meeting.

Sihanouk last week called for an end to the $31-million annual U.S. military and economic aid programs by Dec. 31 unless the United States uses its influence to halt hostile radio broadcasts from South Viet Nam and Thailand by Cambodian rebel groups.

Sihanouk charged that the station operated with the blessing of U.S. authorities. American officials in Viet Nam have disclaimed responsibility for the broadcasts. They say they believe the clandestine station is operating inside Cambodia near the South Vietnamese border and moves frequently.

Thompson Lawyer Rips Into Sharp

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Defense lawyer Hyam Segell launched one of his sharpest counterattacks of the T. Eugene Thompson murder trial today as he tried to dent the testimony of prosecution witness Richard Sharp.

Sharp had testified he was offered the job of killing Mrs. Thompson last March 6 and was promised $2,000 for the job plus a $1,000 bonus if he made it look like an accident.

On cross-examination today, Sharp agreed he had not mentioned the bonus figure in previous statements to police.

Segell's questions amounted to an all-out attack on the earlier testimony of Sheldon Morris, the articulate prosecution witness who spelled out dozens of details of the alleged murder arrangements.

Segell got Sharp to admit

Morris once acted as a "fence" to dispose of 16 or 18 stolen watches, and that Morris rode around with him as he "cased" burglary jobs.

The defense also probed variations in Sharp's and Morris' versions of how the murder gun got to Dick W. C. Anderson, the alleged triggerman in the slaying.

Sharp said Anderson had tried to buy the gun shortly before the murder but was told the weapon would not work. In police statements, Segell noted, Sharp had said the gun was turned over to Anderson while Morris testified the weapon went first to Norman Mastrian.

Sharp discounted some of his earlier statements: "at the time I made the statements I was all shook up."

Sharp said he considered Anderson an alcoholic. Segell asked whether Anderson would sometimes go off on week-long "benders" and Sharp said "yes."

Segell took apart the Luger pistol, the alleged murder weapon, and asked Sharp to put it together. He said he did not know how. This was an attack on Morris' previous testimony that the gun fell apart as Sharp was giving it to Mastrian, but that Sharp then restored it.

Sharp faces a burglary charge in connection with theft of the pistol from a Minneapolis apartment last Feb. 14.

From jigsaw bits of testimony Prosecutor William Randall has sought to fashion a detailed picture of why and how the attractive young matron, Carol Thompson, was slain.

Thompson, 35, is accused of instigating the bludgeon-slashing death last March 6 of his 34-year-old mate.

The state charges Thompson entered into an arrangement with Norman Mastrian, a former boxer, to find a killer. Randall said the motives were $1 million insurance on Mrs. Thompson's life and Thompson's interest in another woman.

Mastrian and Dick W. C. Anderson, also charged with first degree murder in the St. Paul slaying, await trial in St. Paul. Anderson has been named by the state as the actual killer.

In testimony Monday, Richard L. Sharp said he introduced Anderson to Mastrian and that he was present when Mastrian offered the slaying job to Anderson.

Sharp, speaking slowly, related that he himself had been offered $2,000 by Mastrian to kill "a church-goer — the mother of four kids." He said he had been told the amount would be increased to $3,000 if the death was made to look accidental.

Mrs. Thompson, active in a Presbyterian Church, was the mother of four.

Sharp testified Mastrian gave him the choice of killing the woman by shooting, drowning or dynamiting.

The bespectacled Sharp, who awaits trial on a burglary charge, identified a German Luger pistol which he said he stole and turned over to Mastrian. He said a 12-inch piece of heavy red hose exhibited by Randall looked like the hose Mastrian had suggested be used to subdue Mrs. Thompson before drowning her in her bathtub.

"Mastrian wanted me to commit a murder for $2,000," Sharp said. "I asked who he wanted to kill. He said she was a woman — she lives out of town."

Sharp said Mastrian explained that after the woman was subdued, she was to be taken into her bathroom and drowned in the bathtub.

Sharp said he declined the murder "contract" but told Mastrian he would ask "a friend of mine if he wanted to do it."

Sharp testified he was present March 3 when Mastrian asked Anderson how to tape dynamite to a car starter and Anderson replied he didn't know. The next day, Sharp said, the Luger was passed to Mastrian while he was sitting in a car with Anderson and Sheldon Morris.

Morris, another witness yesterday, Monday, said he received an envelope containing $2,500 from John S. Connolly, St. Paul attorney, which was subsequently delivered to Mastrian. Connolly had appeared before the grand jury which indicted Thompson, Mastrian and Anderson.

Morris, former night club operator and taxi cab driver who did a lot of chauffeuring for Mastrian, told of delivering $800 from Mastrian to Anderson about 10 days after the slaying and an additional $1,500 on April 15.

After he delivered the first payment, Morris testified, Anderson told him to tell Mastrian he "would wait two weeks and no longer — or else."

Some Over-Automated

Business Ponders Jobless Situation

By DARDEN CHAMBLISS

NEW YORK (AP) — The head of Chrysler Corp. says his company has gone about as far as it wants to go in replacing men with machines.

"We've already over-automated in some ways," says Chrysler President Lynn Townsend. "It reduces our flexibility."

Accordingly, he said, new plants will need as many men as existing plants. Many other industrialists, he guessed, are reaching a similar conclusion.

This is fresh testimony on one side of a debate on whether unemployment is likely to get dangerously worse.

Recent interviews with businessmen and economists uncovered a strong feeling that unemployment won't increase materially and that the present burden may not be so heavy after all.

"An economy as strong as ours can carry the present load (about 4½ per cent of the labor force jobless) without structural damage if the politicians will merely keep quiet," says Vice President Benjamin Stacey of Boston's First National Bank.

Many say statistics are misleading. Breadwinner joblessness is low, second - income wives account for many job seekers. Voluntary job-switching could be greater than presumed. Employment is probably almost as "full" as it realistically can be, they say.

There is a vigorous dissent view.

W. J. Bassett, executive officer of the Los Angeles County Federation of Labor, AFL-CIO, says "If we don't do something, pretty soon two-thirds of us will be supporting the other third."

Many see a growing unemployment among the young unskilled that threatens dangerous racial and social upheavals. It could also, they warn, destroy this decade's brightest economic hope: the push that's supposed to come when the postwar baby crop starts buying houses, cars and appliances.

"It's hard to rationalize the Soaring Sixties to realize we have to find jobs for all these people before they can buy anything," says Thomas Moses, president of Investors Diversified Services in Minneapolis.

(President George Meany of the AFL-CIO has termed automation a curse, saying industry is in a "mad race" to install push - button machines without proper regard for the impact on society.)

Woman Shot by Admirer, 83, Who Kills Self

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A woman boarding home resident was in satisfactory condition today after being shot by an 83-year-old admirer.

Mrs. Gladys Clark, 54, was shot three times in the chest Monday. Her attacker, Joseph Simonech, killed himself moments after wounding the woman.

JFK Back in Washington

Appeals to Cubans In Florida Speech

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy settled back into his workaday routine today, but only temporarily, after a hectic Florida trip capped by an appeal to the Cuban people to overthrow the Castro regime.

Kennedy, who will be taking off again Thursday on an equally fast-paced Texas trip, promised Monday night that Americans will fight to block any future Communist takeover in the hemisphere.

And the President said the United States is ready to help Cubans establish a progressive government without fear of a return to the economic and political system of the old Batista dictatorship.

Kennedy's significant foreign policy address climaxed a five-speech tour of Tampa and Miami.

The President's whirlwind schedule was reminiscent of the itinerary for a political campaign. He will spend three days touring the major cities of Texas.

In White House parlance, Kennedy's trips to Florida and Texas, the South's two most populous states, must be classed as "nonpolitical." However, few observers doubted that the mounting tempo of presidential travel was anything but a warmup for the 1964 election campaign.

During his day in Florida, Kennedy chose his audiences with care: a general public gathering at Tampa; separate appearances before business and labor groups in that city; a frankly partisan airport pep rally in Miami, and the hemisphere policy talk at the Miami Beach convention of the Inter-American Press Association.

Kennedy lost Florida to Republican Richard M. Nixon by a slim margin in 1960. Texas last time was in the Kennedy column by an equally precarious edge.

Kennedy, in his discussion of Cuba, said that "nothing is possible" in the way of Cuban-American cooperation so long as the Caribbean island is "a victim of foreign imperialism, an instrument of the policy of others, a weapon in an effort dictated by external powers to subvert the other American republics."

U.S. foreign policy makers want to determine how to weigh the scholar's case in conducting future relations with Russia — including the proposed renewal of the U.S. — Soviet cultural exchange pact.

A U.S. mission that had been due to start negotiations in Moscow today on renewing the exchange agreement is still cooling its heels in Washington while the policy makers measure the impact of the Barghorn affair.

The mission's planned departure for Moscow was canceled after Russia announced the professor's arrest. He was released Saturday.

Gladys Godding of Star Spangled Banner Singing Fame Dead

NEW YORK (AP) — Gladys Godding, known to millions of sports fans as the golden voice of the Star Spangled Banner, died Monday after a heart attack. She was 70.

Hardly any sporting event at Madison Square Garden, or any baseball game at the now defunct Ebbets Field of the old Brooklyn Dodgers, ever began without Gladys leading spectators and players in the National Anthem.

She accompanied herself on the organ. And when the games ended, she serenaded the fans with organ music as they left the stadium.

Gladys was born in Macon, Mo., and lived in Kansas City and Independence, Mo., before coming to New York in 1922.

10 Attorneys Involved in Breitlow Case

There are almost as many attorneys in District Court today as there will be jurors.

The jury in the $60,000 civil action, which began at 10 a.m., was completed after noon recess. It has been decided that there will be 12 regular jurors and two alternates.

PLAINTIFF is Breitlow Funeral Home, Inc., 376 E. Sarnia St. It seeks damages as a result of a fire that damaged its new building Jan. 31, 1961.

Two causes of action are involved in the trial. Each is for $30,000.

The first cause brings the manufacturer, Tjernlund Manufacturing Co., and supplier, Comfortrol Supply Co., Minneapolis, and the heating contractor, Quality Sheet Metal Works, Winona, in the case.

Eckert & Carlson, Winona, architects for the building, and Olson, Emanuelson & March, Minneapolis consulting engineers on the project, are named in the second cause.

Breitlow claims that faults in design, controls and manufacture of the heating system installed in the new building were responsible for the fire.

TEN ATTORNEYS are involved in the case. They represent the defendants named above and two third party defendants, Minneapolis Honeywell Regulator Co. and Continental Casualty Co., Chicago.

Roger Brosnahan, Winona, and James Schumacher, Minneapolis, are representing the plaintiff.

Richard Darby, Winona, is attorney for Olson, Emanuelson & March; Richard V. Ehrick, Rochester, represents Comfortrol Co.; M. W. Gaughan, Minneapolis, is counsel for Tjernlund; C. Stanley McMahon, Winona, is attorney for Quality Sheet Metal Works, and Eckert & Carlson are represented by Duane Peterson, Winona.

William C. Schacht, Rochester, is counsel for Minneapolis Honeywell, and William Westphal, Minneapolis, and Robert Hull, Winona, are attorneys for Continental Casualty Co.

WWI Vets to Hold Annual Dinner

The annual dinner of Winona Barracks, Veterans of World War I, will be Thursday at 6:30 p.m. at the American Legion Club.

Master of ceremonies will be Probate Judge E. D. Libera. Speaker will be District Judge Leo F. Murphy. A social hour will precede the dinner. Tickets for nonmembers will be available.

'Winter' Expected Here on Thursday

Winona has been granted another day or two of fairly pleasant weather before wintry weather hits.

Increasing cloudiness with little temperature change is the forecast for tonight when the low temperature is expected to be 20-30. Partly cloudy weather is seen for Wednesday with a high of 50.

BUT ON THURSDAY, the weatherman says, rain or snow and much colder can be expected.

The temperature rose to a comfortable 58 Monday afternoon, dropped to only 33 during the night and was 47 and sunny at noon today.

The temperatures for the past 24 hours were mild contrasted with a year ago when the high for the day was 33 and the low 29. All-time high for Nov. 19 was 73 in 1930 and the low 2 in 1914. Mean for the past 24 hours was 45. Normal for this day is 32.

Auto Burning Demonstration Set This Week

The City Council, figuratively moistening a finger and holding it aloft Monday night, said it will watch an auto burning demonstration this week at the old city dump — as soon as the wind is right.

Piled up at the abandoned dump are the rusty carcasses of half a hundred wrecked cars. They will be set afire by Julius Whetstone, east end auto wrecker, who wishes to use the area for this purpose.

He hopes to demonstrate the practicality of the site for burning of old bodies prior to smashing them up for sale as scrap.

Whetstone, 256 Jefferson St., has been the object of complaints to the council for alleged burning of old autos at his wrecking yard, apparently in violation of fire codes. The demonstration is being set up to try to prove his contention that such burning can be done at the old dump without creating a nuisance to residents of the city's east side.

Two 4th Ward aldermen, James Slottman and Daniel Bambenek, indicated Monday that they favor a ban and are unalterably opposed to such use of the old dump, regardless of results. Bambenek said plans for a culvert and crossing of the Lake Winona drainer at the dump should be reactivated. If burning is to be done, he said, it should be to the south, across the ditch at the Shive Road area.

Other auto salvage operators also have indicated an interest in the experiment.

An empty barge was brought in this morning, and enough coal transferred to it from the damaged craft to raise the damaged portion above the water line.

All five barges will be taken to Alma, Wis., the original destination of the tow.

The Lady Ree picked up its damaged oil barge, which was floating after it was separated from the Leyhe's coal barge. It is continuing downstream today with all three barges and their contents of diesel fuel.

Deward Sweeney, lockmaster at Dam 6, Trempealeau, Wis., said today that leakage from the oil barge was nominal. Although a bulkhead had been cracked by the impact, the craft "lost very, very little" of its contents.

The barges collided at 11:15 p.m. Sunday about half a mile above Homer. The oil barge slid under the coal carrier, and the two could not be separated until late Monday.

City to Meet With Railway On Easements

City officials, Corps of Engineers officers and officials of the Chicago & North Western Railway will meet Friday in Chicago to discuss aspects of the 1964 flood control construction program planned by the Engineers.

City Attorney George M. Robertson Jr. said the railroad objects to corps plans for ponding areas on their property as being far in excess of actual or foreseeable need. The overall plans calls for securing easements from the railway for ponding rights in its freight yard area along the northwest edge of the city. The ponding reservoirs would impound upland runoff during times of peak flooding, taking overflow from streets and storm sewers for later drainage into the Mississippi River.

Railway officials have said the area is a possible future industrial site and they do not wish to sign away rights to its use for this purpose. The city has indicated it may consider writing modifications into easements, allowing the railroad company to reclaim use of its land, with the city providing alternate means of disposition of runoff waters.

Other council business: A clampdown in enforcement of ordinances against littering on the routes to the east side sanitary landfill will be invoked. Council President Harold Briesath and Ald. James Slottman said more arrests apparently are the only way of getting cooperation of the public in the cleanup effort.

An ornamental street light and standard will be placed at the entrance of the parking lot between Hotel Winona and the county courthouse. Mrs. Muriel Ollom said removal of the old upright lights on West 3rd Street left the area dark. Mrs. Ollom, street lighting committee chairman, also was assured that the council would ask prompt installation of lights in the new Edgewood residential development, along with telephone facilities.

Ald. Henry Parks moved specifications be drawn and bids asked for city gasoline purchases for 1964.

Aldermen allowed payment of the first and final estimate of La Crosse Concrete Products Co. of $954.30 for concrete pipe. The tubing was for storm sewers in Clark's Lane and Terry Lane areas. Under an agreement with A. M. Kramer, the city bought the material and supplied the engineering, with Kramer doing the installation work. Kramer is developing residential property in the area.

Tank Storage Space Asked At City Harbor

An offer to lease commercial harbor space for five years to a steel tank manufacturer was voted Monday night by the City Council.

W. E. Morse, executive director of the Winona Industrial Development Association, said the firm is interested in shipping tanks here by barge, then distributing them by rail and truck. If the system works out well, he said, the company may set up a plant and manufacture the tanks here. He said he could not identify the company at present.

CITY ATTORNEY George M. Robertson Jr. said the company had turned down a city proposal for a one-year lease of a tract, 180 by 150 feet, at the harbor area. No objection was raised to the proposed annual rental of $250, Robertson said, but the company wanted rights for at least five years or it would refuse to consider the site. He suggested the land could be leased out on an annual basis, with options to renew for each of the next five years.

Aldermen, noting a relatively low level of activity at the commercial port, saw it as an opportunity to build business and increase employment, despite some reservations by Ald. Henry Parks. He questioned whether such a lease would tie up and deny use of port areas to other prospective shippers. Parks also asked whether the port would be expected to furnish an unloading crane, but was assured by Morse it would not.

Council President Harold Briesath said only "seven or eight" barge loads of fertilizer had been unloaded at the harbor this season. Even though it would tie up half the admittedly small area, he said, "nothing is going on there now; this may bring something good to the city." Ald. James Slottman said he strongly favored a straight five-year lease. It could be restrictive, he said, but this would be no handicap if the port were used no more than it had been in the past five years.

ROBERTSON outlined a detailed proposal calling for a fee of 10 cents per ton for material unloaded at the dock and five cents per ton for storage at the docks. If such revenues were less than $500 a year, the company would pay a flat fee of $250. Not less than 600 tanks—one barge load—would be stored. The tanks weigh one ton each. The company also would be permitted to erect temporary buildings at the site but the city would not be required to furnish utilities. No water or sewer conditions exist at the area now.

Aldermen voted to pass Slottman's motion adopting the proposal.

CHAMBER ADOPTS Fair Share Dues

The Winona Chamber of Commerce will adopt a "fair share" dues formula beginning Jan. 1. Under the program, each member's share of chamber activities, such as tourist promotion and Steamboat Days, will be figured in the annual dues. No further assessments or contributions will be needed during the year.

The chamber pointed out that for a few dollars more, many businessmen who had been supporting chamber-sponsored activities anyway could become members of the group.

DRIVER CHARGED

John O. Daleska, 760 E. Mark St., was cited for failure to yield the right of way following a traffic accident at East King and Hamilton streets Sunday evening. His car and a car driven by William K. Nelson, 253 W. Howard St., were involved. Daleska has not been in court on the charge.

LIKE A LOG

CLEVELAND, Tenn. — When Janet Faith Ballinger, 1, goes to sleep, she stays asleep. The baby was asleep in the back seat of her mother's parked car when it rolled down a 12-foot bank. Mrs. J. C. Ballinger, her mother, rushed up to the car to find the baby sleeping peacefully and unharmed.

JUST THE EASY LESSONS

CHATTANOOGA — When Mike Pont wanted to learn to fly, his Dad taught him — and he became Chattanooga's youngest solo pilot on his 16th birthday. But when he got his driver's license a day later, he went with a professional teacher.

Father Al Pont, a civilian flight instructor, said he hadn't wanted to tackle trying to teach his son to drive a car.

UNAPPRECIATED HEROICS

CHATTANOOGA — When Police Lt. W. T. Nelson spotted an apartment house fire and ran inside to rouse its sleeping occupants, not everybody appreciated his efforts.

One apartment dweller sleepily yelled, "go home, drunk!" Thanks to Nelson, nobody was injured.

MEAN BUCK DEHORNED At Arcadia Deer Park

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special) — Four members of the Arcadia Sportsmen's Club turned cowboys last week and roped a buck deer in City Deer Park here.

Henry, a 4-year-old buck, was chased into a pen, roped and dehorned by Albert Woychik, club president; Donald Glanzer, caretaker; and Vernal Solberg and Rudolph Klink.

Woychik noticed one of the does lying against the fence in the park. Investigating, he found Henry with blood on his face and the left horn breaking off.

The men tied the deer down and saved off both horns. Last year Henry killed a buck in the pen. From a herd of five the club now has three deer remaining.

BREAKS LEG AT ETRICK

ETRICK, Wis. (Special) — Mrs. Donald Peterson, Brice Prairie, fractured her right leg near the ankle in a fall at the home of her mother, Mrs. Martha Hagedstad, Monday morning. She was taken to a La Crosse hospital by ambulance. Mrs. Peterson was here caring for her mother, who is in ill health. Another daughter, Mrs. Dudley Stetzer, Geneva, Ill., has been sent for. Both Mrs. Peterson and Mrs. Stetzer are nurses.

Bette Objects to TV Reporters

By EARL WILSON

New York — "Battling Bette" Davis now looms as a sort of Hollywood Joan of Arc slaying at the TV reporters to make sure they tell only the truth about actresses.

Concerning her threat to sue David Wolper Productions over "The Unsinkable Bette Davis" film on "Hollywood and the Stars," Bette told me, "I had the right of approval, and we should have the right of approval, because it's only our lives and careers they're tampering with." Bette also told me, "My warning to them not to show the film was not a last-minute bit. They knew my position on it for weeks. I claim that they can present fact, but not fiction."

Mankato Market Robbed of $2,000

MANKATO — Burglars broke in to Goettel's Super Fair market in North Mankato Monday and escaped with $2,000 in cash and 35 blank money orders.

Authorities said entrance was gained by forcing open the back door. A large metal cash box was jimmied to obtain the cash and money orders.

The money orders were issued by the American State bank of Mankato and the serial numbers ranged from 1,966 to 2,000.

Sears to Build New Stores

MINNEAPOLIS—Sears, Roebuck and Co. will build new stores next year in St. Cloud, Minn., and Grand Forks, N.D., the company's top officials said in Minneapolis Monday.

And another large store will be built in the Twin Cities area within two years, officials said following the first board of directors meeting ever held by the company in Minneapolis.

Stores planned for St. Cloud and Grand Forks will be about 45,000 square feet in size. But the new store for the Twin Cities will approximate the $4.5 million, 98,280-square-foot outlet the company opened in St. Paul in August, said Austin T. Cushman, Sears chairman.

Kirk Douglas was the hero at a party at the Four Seasons after the opening of "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest"—and one black-tied gent told Kirk, "I don't give a damn what the critics say—the show will run!" Rich and famous, Kirk was obsessed with a determination to have a huge B'way dramatic hit: he had invested heavily in it himself. His personal performance was superb. A very tough B'way columnist sitting beside me said in great admiration at the end, "I never thought he could do it."

Pat Lawford's about-town escort was Ralph Fields. Tony Martin & Cyd Charisse adore the one about the undertaker who was asked why he chose that profession. "Because," he said, "I love people." Sammy Cahn's song-writing inspiration now is shapely Marilyn Chase, lucky him! Comedian Jackie Clarke told his mother the good news: he's to make an appearance in England. "I don't care where you work," she said, "just as long as you can come home at night."

PATRICE MUNSEL, Eva Gabor, Shirley Jones, Peggy Cass and others talked about Show Biz salaries at a reunion of stars who'd worked at the Dallas Summer Musicals. Pat Munsel revealed how Eva Gabor turned musical comedy actress recently. "Eva said to me," related Pat, "You singers make more than just actresses. What show would you recommend that I try to do?" Miss Munsel answered, "Why don't you try to do Vivien Leigh's part in 'Tovarich'? Vivien Leigh can't sing either."

That's how Eva Gabor started on a new career. A top male movie star who'd been a heavy drinker had a girl friend who sobered him up and got him on the wagon. Recently, after sobering up, he broke off with the gal. B'way-ites say "She should have kept him drunk — then he'd never have known he didn't like her."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: There'll never be complete disarmament till they ban martinis.

EARL'S PEARLS: After seeing how some girls dress, it seems the only thing the modern miss takes the trouble to hide is her age.

Taffy Tuttle said she'd taken a memory course and memorized 50 phone numbers. Now she can't recall the names that go with 'em. That's earl, brother.

Labor Maps All-Out Vote Drive in '64

By NEIL GILBRIDE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The AFL-CIO geared up today for a campaign to galvanize millions of union members to vote for organized labor's friends in next year's elections.

The 167-member general board of the AFL-CIO, in announcing plans for its grassroots drive, criticized state laws that make it difficult to register to vote.

A spokesman said the AFL-CIO will fight voter literacy tests that are unfairly applied, and said there are examples in some Northern states, including New York, as well as in the South.

He said the AFL-CIO plan to name "registrars" in every local union is also aimed at countering purges of voter lists. He said George M. Romney of Michigan was "the one governor who has retrogressed" in this field.

Romney, sometimes mentioned as a possible Republican presidential nominee, was criticized for a recent Michigan law requiring voters to re-register every two years instead of four.

Shortly after the political program was announced, AFL-CIO leaders heard U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson ask labor's help in defeating "the lunatic fringe" and "right-wing extremists" who he said want to return the United States to a isolationism.

The AFL-CIO moved on to politics after the 1,200 convention delegates passed a stiff civil rights resolution that stirred a flurry of dissent.

Jerry Lewis Show Folding

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — Jerry Lewis announced Monday that he and the American Broadcasting Co. will discontinue the comedian's two-hour weekly television show, effective Dec. 14.

Low ratings and withering critical reaction contributed to the demise of the show which had been labeled a "bomb" in video circles.

"The Jerry Lewis Show" made its debut Sept. 21, advertised as the most expensive series ever attempted, with a budget of $200,000 a week.

Ike's Charter Members

Last Thursday evening a handful of the men who signed the charter of the Winona Chapter of the Izaak Walton League 40 years ago was presented a reproduction of the charter at Old Timers Nite. We thought others would be interested in seeing this charter and reading the signatures of the signers. George Cutler, first secretary, supplied the photographic copy.

The name of the chapter was changed a few years back to the Will Dilg Chapter to honor the founder of the league and as a memorial to him and his son. A monument now stands bearing out this thought adjoining the Ike's cabin on Prairie Island, which is viewed by thousands who come to see the deer in the nearby Ike's deer park.

Deer Season Closes
The curtain was pulled down on the 1963 deer season in Minnesota Sunday evening with the comment it was pretty spotty. Weather got most of the blame even in the rifle zone where there was tracking snow in many of the sections.

Locally, the sentiment was overwhelming against the early season. This year with "bluebird" conditions prevalent, most hunters considered themselves lucky if they got a deer. It was not because of lack of deer but due to the inability of most hunters to see a deer. All the deer had to do was stand still.

Wisconsin hunters, where the season opens Saturday, are hopeful that the weather will change by weekend. In fact, the predictions are that present Indian summer will be gone by the weekend.

Unquestionably, there will be a strong movement to change, Minnesota's deer dates in the next session of the Legislature. The season is set by law, not by the Conservation Commissioner's order. The later system, of course, is the answer but Minnesota Legislators never have seemed ready to give up this power.

The objectors to a late season, like Wisconsin, does not come from the deer hunters but from the resort and cabin operators who want to keep open for the deer season business but who do not want to spend the winter running a resort. They are not prepared for below zero weather. Water facilities are not buried deep enough so they would not freeze. The pipes are drained in the fall.

Ducks Still Missing
Jimmy Robinson's wire from Canada reveals this week that the vast majority of waterfowl has left Canada and headed south. Locally the population is up at present but not of sufficient volume to indicate any major flight into the area.

So the question flashes across the mind of the duck hunter. "Is there going to be a so-called 'big flight' or are these days gone? We hope not, forever."

No Fish Entered
The Big fish board at the Sportsman's Tavern was clean Monday. No one entered a big fish over the weekend. That's how good fishing was.

American Motors Profit-Sharing 17 Cents an Hour

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors Corp.'s $37,897,205 profit last fiscal year means that — under profit-sharing — AMC employees will be 17 cents an hour better off than other auto workers, the United Auto Workers Union says.

American Motors reported its profits Monday, and said $11,749,466 of the earnings will be divided among production and office workers.

That was $621,682 less than the $12,371,148 "progress, sharing" pool of 1962. The two-year average amounts to 17 cents an hour more in benefits for the average AMC worker than employees of other major auto making firms receive, the UAW said.

A union spokesman theorized that if General Motors, Ford and Chrysler had adopted profit-sharing in 1961, their past 12 months' sales would have meant 45 cents an hour in additional benefits for GM workers, 35 cents for Ford employees and 25 cents for Chrysler workers.

AMC said its 1963 profits — which amounted to $2.01 a share — were up $3,566,584 from 1962 earnings of $34,240,621 — or $1.85 a share. The gain was 10.4 per cent.

Husbands Don't Know Dress Sizes

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Only one in 10 U.S. husbands knows his wife's clothing sizes. America scraps about as many cars each year as the rest of the world produces. Americans also undergo nearly 16 million major surgical operations each year.

The Soviet Union claims it has almost 17,000 women 100 years of age or older. It still remains an open question whether people live longer under communism — or it just seems longer.

Keep on your toes while doing your dishes. Scientists have found it takes less energy to do them standing up than sitting down.

You endanger your own life when you bowl out the man behind the wheel. Psychiatrists say an angry driver is sometimes more likely to have an accident than a drunken one.

YOUR DOLLAR BUYS MORE AT YOUR....
Walgreen AGENCY DRUG STORE

Another Good Example Of Federal Waste

MORE THAN $90 million of taxpayers' money has been spent to buy 500 million pounds of salad oil. This little operation of the Department of Agriculture involved about two dollars from every taxpayer, and Sen. Williams of Delaware would like us to know that we were gypped.

The idea was to support the prices of soybean and cottonseed oil — although the market was strong, and soy oil was selling for 50 cents more than the support price at the time the purchases were made and the prices didn't seem to need any support. The Agriculture Department has a lot of your money, however, and so it went ahead.

According to Sen. Williams, it bought most of the oil from two companies which the Department's own Commodity Credit Corp. had charged with fraud just a couple of years ago. These firms had been barred "from any programs financed by CCC."

The Senator calculates that the loss resulting was about $70 million of our money, because the oil was shipped in flimsy tin cans which buckled and broke when handled by dock workers here and abroad. Some of it leaked out and some of it turned rancid.

WHEN IT arrived in places like Greece, Brazil and Korea, local officials were appalled. Some of them refused to let the stuff be unloaded. Others labeled it unfit for human consumption. Even the Koreans, who are hard up enough to eat most anything, couldn't eat up the millions of pounds we shipped them. Huge stores of the oil sit around spoiling in Congo warehouses.

It was the Department of Agriculture, it will be recalled, which recently was baffled by the disappearance of 24 million bushels of grains it shipped to Austria. This time it knows where the salad oil is, at least, but it must know that it has made a series of costly mistakes in buying and shipping it. Agriculture officials won't lose sleep over it, because you will pay for their mistakes.

"This is a further example of what happens when an agency gets too much money," says Sen. Williams.

THE BUDGET for all federal agencies is now over $100 billion a year, and the average family's tax bill is around $2,000.

Car Makers Plan For 1964 Record

THE U.S. AUTOMOBILE industry is counting on an estimated $700 million advertising budget to help it maintain its goal of selling another seven million 1964 model automobiles. With the new models already in show rooms, the public will be offered the greatest selection ever. But the industry isn't leaving buying to chance.

The advertising campaign has a double-barreled purpose—to attract new business and to retain the loyalty of present customers.

It begins on the national level in the headquarters of General Motors, Ford, Chrysler, American Motors, Studebaker and some lesser manufacturers. It is continued on a local level in virtually all the 13,000 new car dealerships in the United States.

LATEST FIGURES compiled by the National Automobile Dealers Association (NADA) show the major auto manufacturers spent over $350 million in 1962 to tell their advertising story. GM was the No. 1 corporation in the country in advertising expenditures and the other four major auto makers were listed in the ranks of the top 100 national advertisers.

Franchised new car dealers spent $255 million on the local advertising level to support the national campaigns in that same year.

In 1962, dealers spent an average of $7,700 for local advertising compared with a $6,700 average in 1961.

NADA pointed out that total unit sales in 1962 increased 19 percent while advertising expenses increased only 12 percent.

THE NADA RESEARCH department gave this breakdown of 1962 local advertising by franchised new car dealers.

Media	All Dealers (Million)	Average Per Dealer	Percent For Media
Newspapers (classified)	$87	$2,600	34
Newspapers (display)	54	1,600	21
Direct Mail	38	1,200	15
Radio	38	1,200	15
Outdoor Ads	10	300	4
Programs, (sports, theater)	10	300	4
Displays (auto showrooms)	8	200	2
Other Media (including TV)	10	300	4

NADA cautioned its members that competition will be fierce for the customer's dollar and that "one of the biggest and most successful weapons in the dealers' arsenal will be advertising." The article also advises its members that "there are few local promotions that won't require the support of newspaper advertising on a consistent basis."

NATURALLY, WE are pleased to learn of this confidence in the proved effectiveness of regular use of paid advertising space. While it is perfectly true that on the editorial and news side of this enterprise, we regard the advertising department as a competitor with us for space, we recog-

WASHINGTON CALLING

President and Congress Clash

By MARQUIS CHILDS
WASHINGTON — At the center of the American political drama since the system of divided powers has existed is the conflict between the President and the Congress. The longest mile in the world separates the Capitol from the White House, and modern means of communication such as the telephone have done little to shorten it.

While still another President is making this melancholy discovery in the quarrel over foreign aid, the tribulations of his predecessor in the White House are a painful memory. Dwight D. Eisenhower, during his first term, was almost constantly engaged in brush-fire wars with Congress and in particular with members of his own party in the legislative branch.

The late Sen. Joseph McCarthy was a thorn in the side of the first Republican President to hold office since 1833. He intervened in State and Defense, keeping the executive establishment in an uproar. When he sent his free-wheeling agents, Roy Cohn and David Schine, on a tour of European embassies to ferret out possible subversives and un-American books in USIA libraries the United States became the laughingstock of the world.

In the same way that the current case of Otto F. Otepka suggests the intervention of Congress in the day-to-day conduct of foreign policy, so did Scott McLeod, the State Department's then head of security, become involved with the Senate's Internal Security subcommittee. This was in the row over the President's nomination of Charles E. Bohlen to be Ambassador to Moscow. On the roll call of Bohlen's nomination 11 Republicans and only two Democrats voted against the President's ambassador.

A MORE SERIOUS war was over the Bricker amendment which would have embedded in the Constitution a grave restraint on the treaty-making power of the executive. Former Sen. John Bricker of Ohio, a Republican stalwart, was joined by other stalwarts in both parties, suspicious not necessarily of the powers of the President then in the White House but of all Presidents. For months the threat hung over Eisenhower's head.

THEES WAY MUCHO SIMPLER

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Khrushchev Personally Irked Over Berlin Wall

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — During the backstage White House discussions over the Professor Barghoorn incident, all sorts of theories have been given for the hardening policies of Moscow.

The theories have ranged from Khrushchev's troubles with the Red army, to a desire to show firmness against Red Chinese charges of appeasement, to the belief that some of the incidents were caused by subordinates without the knowledge of top men in the Kremlin.

It is, of course, true that Khrushchev has had his troubles with the Red army, and last winter fired the chief of staff, Marshal Matvei Zakharov, and the chief of Military Intelligence, Gen. I. A. Serov. This was the culmination of a running argument which apparently began when Khrushchev pulled Russian missiles out of Cuba in what military leaders considered an abrupt surrender to the United States.

Pearson

Following Cuba, Marshal Malinovsky, the minister of defense, was reported irked and downgraded. Apparently he was not downgraded very much, because he continued on the job. But he certainly appeared to be irked, because he made a public statement differing with published accounts that his chief, Nikita Khrushchev, was really responsible for the great Russian victory at Stalingrad.

This was equivalent to Secretary of Defense McNamara saying publicly that John F. Kennedy was not a hero in the PT boat rescue in the South Pacific — a statement which, if made, would undoubtedly result in Mr. McNamara's resignation. Malinovsky, however, did not resign.

THERE HAVE been other differences between Khrushchev and the Red army, including its pressure on him to resume nuclear testing in the late summer of 1961 and its vigorous opposition to a reduction in the officer strength in 1960.

Despite this friction, however, it's not believed that the Red army is the overriding reason for the worsening of US-USSR relations.

AND, GETTING nettled and impatient over incidents in this country plus the long delays over Berlin negotiations, they react. After the Camp David talks so soon after the test ban thaw.

Nor is the desire to combat Chinese accusations of appeasement considering an over-riding reason. It is true that an extremely important European Communist meeting is now taking place in Moscow and a decision is imminent as to whether the Chinese shall be expelled from the Communist brotherhood or relations improved.

The basic difference between Moscow and Peking is over co-existence with the capitalist world, and it is possible that Khrushchev wants to toughen his tactics in order to meet the Chinese halfway without actually yielding to their basic policy that war is inevitable.

All of the above may influence Soviet strategy.

HOWEVER, IT'S believed that the key to recent hardening of relations may be found in some personal letters which Khrushchev has written to President Kennedy plus some statements he has made to private visitors.

He told Kennedy in one letter that he considered the question of Berlin entirely separate from other East-West relations and that it had no bearing on the thaw. He gave the distinct impression that he would continue to press for a Berlin solution until he gets one. He told me last summer that the Berlin wall was not to come down. It must remain. And in one letter to Kennedy he said, "We are like two men tugging on a rope" over Berlin.

Mr. K also told American visitors privately: "Berlin is a good place for us to step on your corns." In talking to another Western diplomat he said that it was a good idea to stir up the West from time to time, but that he fully intends to continue co-existence.

The above, plus retaliation for the arrest of Soviet spies in the United States, is probably the key to the professor Barghoorn case and the general worsening of relations. Soviet officials, operating with their own government press, do not understand the impact of public opinion in the United States.

AND, GETTING nettled and impatient over incidents in this country plus the long delays over Berlin negotiations, they react. After the Camp David talks with Eisenhower, it was expected that a summit conference would be called within a few weeks to discuss Berlin. It was postponed and postponed. With each postponement, Khrushchev boiled privately, until he boiled over publicly about the U-2 at the Paris meeting.

In Moscow last July, Averell Harriman persuaded Khrushchev to separate a test ban treaty from a non-aggression pact between NATO and the Warsaw pact nations.

Almost six months have now passed and there has still been no negotiations regarding a nonaggression pact. This is reported to be one of the chief reasons for Moscow's present needling ire.

Democratic strategists have made a careful study of the recent election results in big city suburbs such as those around Philadelphia.

THEY WERE worried about secret resentment among white voters against the Kennedy civil rights program. They found only a slight drop in Democratic votes traceable to civil rights. The only significant declines were reported in areas that had experienced actual racial strife.

As a result, White House aides are pleading with Democratic senators to hurry the civil rights bill before the Negroes take their battle into the streets.

If they can keep the civil rights fight out of the streets, the Democrats figure, it will not hurt them with northern white voters next year.

The Soviet commercial attaché has sounded out Washington builders about constructing a small office building to house future Soviet trade activities. He expects a big boost in Soviet-American trade.

The Second Armored Division, which made the dramatic jump from Texas to Germany in three days, has complained that the equipment waiting for them abroad was outmoded and in poor repairs.

INEXPENSIVE MEAL. NORFOLK, Va. — Wendell Rosso, supermarket chain president was telling a dinner meeting that the city administration is so scandal-proof that one city employee declined a 50-cent meal on the house.

Not to be outdone, Mayor Roy B. Martin Jr., the principal speaker, left 50 cents beside his plate when he finished dinner.

Busy Signal on Hot Line?

To the Editor:

The administration's policy of relaxing tensions with the Soviet has produced the test ban treaty, agreement against testing in outer space, the "hot line" telephone, and the wheat deal. Each of these poses risks to our nation's security but overriding "political considerations," we are told, made these risks reasonable. What are the fruits of these risky efforts to ease tensions? The news indicates the Reds have no intention to ease the cold war pressures on the West as evidenced by the crisis on the autobahn.

Some weeks ago, with the ink just dry on the test ban and Gromyko in JFK's office, our convoy on the autobahn was held at gunpoint for 55 hours because of Russian demands on head counting procedures. The State Department sought to explain this performance calling it a "misunderstanding between the Kremlin and those upon the scene." The New York Times bleated editorially that this was another Soviet "inconsistency" (sic) advising them to be more careful in view of the present cold war thaw. Three days later the Reds accommodated both views by holding up the British convoy for 8 hours.

The facts are the State Department knew this was no misunderstanding but sought to play down the episode for reasons of its own. West German newspapers revealed what really took place on the autobahn and left no doubt about this being a "misunderstanding." Lt. Ray Fields, in charge, had waited the agreed one hour delay at the check point and then ordered his vehicles past but was confronted with armored vehicles with all guns pointed at GIs at close range.

A major general was in command of these units and held them at bay while a U.S. helicopter circled above reporting what transpired. In anger, the general ordered a MIG fighter to drive off the helicopter. The speedy MIG jet came but with great courage the U.S. pilot was able to elude the Red fighter and he finally left. This war of nerves with guns following every move of these GIs continued for hours until we finally modified our head count procedure and were allowed to pass. The Soviets had made their point.

But are they satisfied? Another U.S. convoy was held up for 44 hours and who gave up to whom is still the subject of debate. It will not be the last such incident.

Some serious questions are raised by this episode. Why must we be spoon-fed with these adulterated news dispatches? The Reds knew what was going on but we were told only part of the story to perpetuate the myth of relaxed tensions. Americans want the truth. Only when we know the facts can we make sound decisions and responsible judgments of policy and leadership. It is the cornerstone of our democracy. I can't help recall the hucksters phrase "Don't walk, telephone." I wonder how that "hot line phone" worked in this situation. According to all the hoopla this phone line to Moscow should've been able to clear up all the misunderstanding in minutes but the State Department must've got a busy signal or perhaps the phone was off the hook. At any rate we got the message and it proved to be a false one at that.

Where are the responsible journalists who will dig for the facts and bring out the truth? At the President's last news conference a question regarding Sen. Goldwater's claim that the administration is managing the news to perpetuate itself in office brought a loud guffaw from the reporters. The President's failure to answer this charge was not

Internal Organs Transposed

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have "situs inversus," my internal organs being transposed or on the wrong side.

About 25 doctors have examined me in the last few years, mostly out of curiosity. They were all amazed and some didn't believe my heart beats on the right side.

How often does this occur? What causes it? I am a fraternal twin. Does this have anything to do with it? — N.V.

Yours is a very rare condition — heart on the right side, liver on the left, and so on.

Being a twin seems to have some bearing, but nobody knows exactly why. Left-handedness is one possibility that has been observed. A clockwise (reverse) hair whorl is another.

As to the internal organs, all may be reversed — or only some.

It is a developmental quirk, and that's about as good an explanation as we have.

It doesn't seem to have any harmful effects. It's just that the organs are arranged in a different, or reversed, pattern.

No, there is no relationship to cancer. But they do enough damage otherwise to require immediate treatment. In time, syphilis in particular can cause damage to various organs of the body, the heart and the brain being notable examples.

Dr. Molner is always glad to hear from his readers, and whenever possible he uses their questions in his column, but because of the tremendous volume of mail received daily, he cannot answer individual letters.

funny nor was the response of the reporters for they might reflect upon their own responsibility and recognize that they might yet forfeit their right to inform the people. The government may do it for them.

Thanks for a Wonderful Evening
To the Editor:

I am sure there are many others in Winona, who were as gratified as we were to see High School students put on as great a performance as "The Characters" did Saturday night in "Good-Bye, My Fancy."

Thanks again to a wonderful bunch of young people and to you "Mag." Let's try again, before the end of the school year to give Winona another wonderful weekend like this last one.

Can we hear from a few more of you "Patrons of the Arts" here in Winona? Let's let these kids know how we feel about them.

He's Had Enough From Mrs. Nhu

NEW YORK — Free speech is a fine thing, I am sure, and I generally approve the right of a fellow to rear up on his hind legs and speak his piece however erroneous, misleading or blasphemous. Particularly in his own country.

But I think we've had a sufficiency of Madame Nhu. I am crocodiling no tears over this charming ward of our court, who lammed out of Saigon in what would appear, to be perfect timing for the assassination of her husband and brother-in-law in the recent coup in South Viet Nam. They knocked off the pair while Madame was having the bags plastically unzipped from her eyes on the West Coast, and it would not surprise too many people if her other bags contained a fair portion of the Vietnamese treasury.

There seems to be no other real reason for Madame Nhu to desert her ever-loving at a crucial point of her country's history — and the experts tell me that the coup has been brewing for about the same time little cutie-pants has been overseas shooting off the loudest mouth since Ethel Merman belted out song, "There's No Business Like Show Business." I would assume, in the honored tradition of family-run countries, that somebody reads the handwriting and takes off with the swag.

Apart from my involvement in the yearly taxes, which have gone to pay for the high price of non-winning a war I wouldn't care if Madame Nhu had beat it with the treasury intact.

BUT HAVING the good Madame constantly around is more or less like what Jimmy Breslin said — it's like hiring Willie Sutton to work in your bank. I loathe noisy dames, for a start, and this has certainly been a squawky one.

Her own dear sister says that Madame enforced the ban against dancing because one of her boy friends ran off with a taxi-dancer. For downholding the Twist I could love her, but even the Twist is preferable to that constant tinny yack which makes the papers with monotonous regularity. No wonder poor Diem was a bachelor.

With Sis-in-law sounding off in the palace daily, he didn't need a wife.

The American press has been revoltingly charitable to this time, by all accounts. All she has to do is play the Madame Butterfly bit in front of the nasty-question askers, and they melt. So she's pretty, and so is her daughter. But she's still got a fork in her fishwife's tongue.

IT APPEARS now we are especially embarrassed by the little lady's presence since they scragged the immediate members of the family. The good girl wanted, she says, our protection to go home to collect her other kids — and, I presume, anything else valuable she might have overlooked when she buzzed off before the shooting started.

I think we owe it to the little Lotus Blossom to send her home. I'm sure that the boozing, twisting, shady-lady fanciers and jazz-music-lovers will be delighted to see her again, as the prime mover in the abolition of the indoor sports which made life in Saigon bearable. It was quite edifying that the first thing the citizens did after the Royal Family got clobbered was to open up the joy houses.

Apart from a natural inclination to weep over the demise of the mad brother-in-law and his hate-filled associate, Madame Nhu's husband, I would say we could remove the Madame from our shores on the charge of vocal rudeness alone.

POLITENESS is a thing that even women should be taught, when they are visiting the people who feed them, and somewhere along the way Madame Nhu's governess goofed. If her pillow talk is portion to her public utterance, I am not surprised that the sister-mentioned boy friend took off with the taxi-dancer. Her husband might even find his current condition of heavenly relief from the affairs of state a pleasant change.

I don't let us off the hook a minute, mind you. If she had been ugly we'd have told her to shut up and seen her to the door. As it was we took a lot of guff from a big-mouthed female with no feasible platform, and I suppose it was all out of sheer nerves in regard to what was about to explode. The State Department moves in mysterious ways, its blunders to perform, and I suggest that the next best step would be to export the lady to Cuba. She and Castro would make a great television team.

The World Today

Good Judgment Of Russ Doubted

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Kennedy administration has expressed serious doubt about the Russian leaders' good judgment in testing the nerve of the West, particularly that of the United States.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara put it this way in a talk Monday night: "I do not regard the present Communist leaders as wholly reckless in action."

"But recent experience, in Cuba and, on a lesser scale, in Berlin, has not persuaded me that I can predict with confidence the sorts of challenge that Communist leaders will come to think prudent and profitable."

In addition, this McNamara talk before the Economic Club of New York had an unusually tough tone for the Kennedy administration which has tried to avoid sabre-rattling.

The secretary compared American and Russian military power and flatly claimed nuclear superiority for the United States. He said the Communists have sought to avoid a big war with the West.

This doesn't mean they think they can get away with them. What if they try them, as they did in Cuba and at Berlin?

McNamara gave them a warning: The best way to stop them from the smaller adventures is to assure them such short-of-all-out-war tries would meet "prompt, effective military" response.

In short: Stop them cold and let them decide to back off or keep pushing into the big war they want to avoid.

Much of McNamara's talk was devoted to American nuclear superiority, for example: "The Soviets are estimated to have today only a fraction as many intercontinental missiles as we do." But he acknowledged the Russians are a big threat to Europe, with their hundreds of intermediate-and medium-range ballistic missiles.

Goldwater Unit To Be Formed At Alma Meeting

ALMA, Wis. — An organizational meeting of the Buffalo and Pepin county citizens supporting the nomination of Sen. Barry Goldwater for president will be held in the social room of the American Bank here Monday at 8 p.m.

Plans to affiliate with the national and state chapters of the National Draft Goldwater Committee will be discussed. Mrs. Fanny H. Leonberger, Pepin County, and Delmore Zirzow, Buffalo County chairman, invited those interested. Lunch will be served.

Wisconsin chairman is Wayne Hood, La Crosse, former Republican state chairman. A state committee for Goldwater will be announced soon.

Medical Care Would Raise Tax $2 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Social Security taxes would go up about $2 billion a year under President Kennedy's proposal for health care of the aged, Congress was told Monday.

Witnesses said the increase would average $12 a year for wage earners, with a maximum of $27.50 for any employee.

Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze said enactment of the plan would help stem a growing drain on federal, state and local revenues by old persons unable to pay their own hospital bills.

Celebrezze opened the administration's case before the House Ways and Means Committee. This group has scheduled eight days of hearings on the whole issue of health programs for the aged. But no further committee action is planned this year.

Buffalo Board Makes County Roads Arterials

ALMA, Wis. (Special) — Passage of a resolution establishing all county trunks as arterial highways by the Buffalo County Board of supervisors last week week establishes immediately the right of way of persons traveling on these county roads in case of accident.

This refers to intersection of town roads with county highways but is not effective with private roads coming into county trunks.

The highway department already has erected some stop signs and will get them at all town-county intersections as quickly as possible. The resolution complies with a state law which says county highway committees may designate county trunks as arterials.

AT THE recommendation of the highway committee the board appropriated $82,391 in road improvement under Section 83.14 of the Wisconsin statutes, assuming raising of a similar amount by the municipalities, for a total of $164,782. Some of the work was done this year; the appropriation includes the balance due on work done.

Under Section 81.23 of the statutes, the county appropriated $3,994 in bridge aid for towns. Townships raised $5,722 toward the projects for $9,716 in bridge work approved.

Under this statute, in projects of less than $400, the town pays the first $200 and county the next $200. For projects over $400, counties and towns pay on a 50-50 basis.

When bridge petitions from townships are passed, only the township board members vote because the county aid is divided among the townships; villages and cities are not involved.

Equal appropriations by municipalities and county were made on the following ROAD IMPROVEMENT projects:

Sand lift — Alma, County Trunk F, $10,000; Lincoln, E.E., $2,098.73; Naples, HH, $592.49. Sand lift and oil — Buffalo, M, $4,463.43; Lincoln, XX, $7,500; and Montana, AFE, 14, $7,000.

Oil — Canton, V, $3,000 and J, $150.06; Gilmanton, N, $1,100.21; Modena, AFE 12, $9,000; Naples, HH, $2,420.81; Nelson, AA, $840.82, and KK, $4,251.71; Waumandee, U, $272.90 and E, $750, and Glencoe, C, $5,000, and Mondovi, A and HH, $1,300.

Rock — Canton, V, $486.13, and JJ, $1,576.76, and Modena, AFE 12, $1,000.

Construction — Gilmanton, D, $1,868.89, and Nelson, two projects on I, $4,105.37 and $7,250.

Undesignated improvements — Maxville, V, $5,000, and Montana, X, $1,302.93.

These are the TOWNSHIP BRIDGE projects, the first figure paid by local units, the second, county aid:

Canton —Yenney bridge, $200, $94.63, and Wittig bridge, $795.03 for both township and county.

Dover —Steinke culvert, $580.39 for both, and Klopp culvert, $200 and $37.21.

Glencoe — Weltzien bridge, $395.74 for both town and county.

Lincoln — Balk bridge, $7.75 and $7.74, and Langenegger, $1,000 by each.

Maxville — Brunner bridge, $166.30 for each; Modena — Brommer, $127.40 for both; Naples — Wood bridge, $641.19 for both; Naples — Brovold, $1,413.93, each, and Waumandee — Ole's bridge, $194.49 for each.

THE PETITIONS were recommended for adoption by H. L. Multhaup, Town of Buffalo; Elmer Brenn, Town of Mondovi, and Alger Marum, Gilmanton, comprising the highway committee.

A total of $876.87 in dog damage was allowed on $974.30 total claimed, or 90 percent. Largest amount allowed was $150 to Lester Jost for a cow. Claims for animals killed by dogs also included 2 calves; one heifer; 19 sheep, lambs and ewes, with 3 lambs damaged; 12 swine; 34 ducks; 3 turkeys, and 30 hens or chicks.

Baby Killed by Alaskan Dog

WOODSTOCK, Ill. (AP) — A 4-month-old boy was bitten and mauled to death Monday by an 80 - pound Alaskan malamute dog.

The boy, James Michael Henderson, was dragged out of the family car by the dog, which had been purchased a month ago by the infant's father, James E. Henderson, 20, as a watchdog. The boy, who was bitten more than a dozen times on the head and body by the 5-year-old sled dog, died in a hospital 90 minutes after being attacked.

Henderson, a dog trainer, told police the dog attacked the baby after Henderson left the infant on the seat of his car and went into his home. He and his wife, Kathryn, 17, returned to the car in a few minutes and saw the dog mauling the baby in the driveway.

Garage Damaged Slightly by Fire

Firemen worked for 34 minutes on a small garage fire at 471 W. 5th St. Monday evening. The south wall and southeast corner of the frame garage, owned by Elmer Harmon, was scorched. Apparently little was lost or damaged, according to Harmon.

Fire Chief John Steadman said today the fire probably started through spontaneous combustion. A pile of old rags was located near gasoline cans in the garage, he said.

Harmon said he noticed the fire about 6:15 p.m., took his car out of the garage and called the fire department. Firemen arrived about 6:30. A 2½-inch line was used.

There was not much damage and it was insured, Harmon said.

Boating and Skiing Tough on Scientist

SEATTLE (AP) — G.L. Hollingsworth, 44, director of the Boeing Scientific Research Laboratories, has discovered neither boating nor skiing is an exact science.

A week ago a cast was removed from Hollingsworth's right arm, broken in a boating accident.

Sunday he broke the left one while skiing.

Older People Honor Volunteer Worker

NEW YORK (AP) — "We love you, Miss Rosenfeld," said the inscription on a cake for Jennie Rosenfeld, a volunteer worker with Emanuel congregation for 73 years.

Miss Rosenfeld, 83, was honored Monday by members of the Center for Old People and by fellow members of the women's auxiliary of the Jewish congregation.

For years she taught citizenship and current events classes. She says she has no intention of retiring.

Hotel Ruins Sifted for Fire Victims

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) —The grim chore of sifting the charred debris of the Surfside Hotel, leveled by a fire that may have claimed 25 lives, resumed today.

Firemen recovered eight unidentified bodies Monday. A ninth victim died of burns in Atlantic City Hospital and 16 guests of the hotel were missing.

Authorities had planned to search the ruins through the night, but floodlights couldn't pierce the smoke that hovered over the area. Firemen remained overnight, wetting down the rubble and extinguishing several minor fires re-fanned from sparks by an ocean breeze.

Monday's fire razed five small hotels and a rooming house and damaged four other buildings just off this resort's famous Boardwalk.

Cause of the early morning blaze has not been determined, but apparently it flared out of control in a second-story ballroom over the Surfside's boiler room.

Michael Bloomberg, acting fire prevention chief, estimated damage at $1 million.

Dynamite Blast At U of Alabama

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) —Police questioned an unidentified man today in connection with the third dynamite explosion within three days near the University of Alabama.

The blast occurred shortly after midnight about four blocks from a dormitory where the University's only Negro student, Vivian Malone, has a room.

A foot-deep hole was ripped in the street. Windows were blown out in homes and doctors' offices nearby.

No one was injured in today's blast or by the two similar explosions.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower entered the U.S. Military Academy in 1911 as a cadet appointee of Sen. Joseph Little Bristow of Kansas. He was graduated June 12, 1915, and commissioned a second lieutenant in the Infantry.

HOUSTON COUNTY COURT

Real Estate Agent Sues for $8,200 Fee

CALEDONIA, Minn. — In District Court for Houston County here Monday, the collection case of Midwest Bottle Gas Co. against Leonard and Emelia Wohlers, Caledonia, was stricken for additional pleadings, and following an afternoon of testimony, the claim of a real estate agent for $8,200 in an alleged breach of contract suit was taken under advisement.

The case brought by Gerald A. Peterson, La Crosse broker, against William C. and Bess Sullivan of the Pier, La Crescent was listed for the jury but on agreement of the parties, it was heard by Judge Leo F. Murphy, who is presiding at this session.

THE JURY is to return Thursday to hear the $783.06 collection case brought by Rudolph Klinski, Caledonia, against Mathew Schiltz, rural Caledonia, originally scheduled for Monday, and Mabel David, Jacksonville, Fla., against Roy E. and Maxine L. Schnauer. The plaintiff claims defendants owe her $3,500 on a note representing money which her late husband loaned the Schnauers. They claim the note was paid.

Three jury-cases are listed for next Tuesday: Stanley L. Moen, against Arnold Hanson, both of Spring Grove, involving a $1,600 tractor allegedly given by plaintiff to Hanson to repair, which burned; James L. Bedore, Caledonia chiropractor, against Joseph F. and Albert Bushman, Calmar, Iowa, an auto accident case in which plaintiff asks $25,000; and Ronald R. Campbell, Wauwatosa, Wis., man engaged in the tree business, against G. R. Sparde. La Crescent, a collection matter. This case was moved onto the calendar.

IN THE MIDWEST Bottle Gas case, in which the company alleged defendants owed $630 and also had leased tanks valued at $1,000, L. L. Roerkohl of Roerkohl, Rippe & Lee, Caledonia, representing the defendants, moved for striking for additional pleadings, which was granted. In a countersuit defendants said they owe the company only $346.

L. L. Duxbury, Caledonia, represented the gas company. Several witnesses were on the stand in the Peterson-Sullivan case involving an $82,000 La Crescent real estate property. Duxbury, representing Peterson, called the plaintiff, who said his contract with the Sullivans listed for sale the Pier in the Hawaii Village on Shore Acres, including a restaurant and boat landing.

His contract for selling the property expired June 15, he said. On June 14 at 5 p.m. he brought to Sullivan an offer by George DeDakis to purchase the property, paying $17,000 cash and assuming the $65,000 mortgage held on the place by Phillips Petroleum Co. Peterson said he fulfilled his obligation by taking DeDakis as a buyer to Sullivan and was entitled to the $8,200 commission.

THE ATTORNEY called adversely Mr. Sullivan, 1903 Barnabee Rd., La Crosse, who testified he didn't feel he could accept the offer because in his opinion the offer didn't agree with the listing contract which he had signed. Some of the property agreed upon in the offer to purchase wasn't owned by Sullivan nor listed for sale, he said.

Peter Berg, of Bosshard, Arenson & Sundet, La Crosse attorneys representing the defendants, questioned Sullivan on direct examination.

William Zilka, La Crosse representative for Phillips Petroleum, B. A. Qualy, Houston County register of deeds, and James J. Bannen, La Crosse, attorney for the petroleum company, also were defense witnesses.

Qualy testified to the existence of the $65,000 mortgage against the La Crescent property in his office records.

BANNEN and Zilka testified to the terms of the mortgage between Phillips and Sullivan because the defendant was maintaining that not only did the offer to purchase not agree completely with the listing agreement, but the mortgagee, Phillips Petroleum, had certain rights in the transaction, conditioned by the mortgage and not acceptable to the purchaser.

The mortgage, current lease and other documents were offered in evidence. Bannen will make other documents in possession of the petroleum company available to Judge Murphy for his deliberation.

Goodview Names New CD Head

Harold Englund, 4325 6th St., was named as Goodview 'civil defense director at the village council meeting Monday night.

Englund, an estimator at Northern States Power Co. in Winona, succeeds Paul M. Brom, resigned the post. Englund's appointment is effective immediately. The council issued three building permits, including one for a new home, amounting to $23,250 in total value. Five gas permits and two sanitary sewer tap permits were also issued.

The village hall was designated by the council as the polling place for the Dec. 3 municipal election.

Village Clerk Henry C. Ehmcke reported to the council that 2,543,000 gallons of water had been billed during the quarter ending Oct. 31. $43.29 remains uncollected from the Aug. 1 billing, Ehmcke said.

The clerk also presented to the group a list of names of those persons delinquent in paying sewer rental as of Oct. 31. An identical list has been sent to Winona County Auditor Richard Schoonover for collection, Ehmcke said. The amount due will be added to the delinquent customers' taxes.

Ehmcke also gave the council the names of residents who have failed to take out gas permits as of Oct. 31.

The council discussed purchase of a 42-inch sweeper brush for use in clearing the village skating rink this winter. Cost of the brush would be about $125, according to Ehmcke. No action was taken, however.

DEAR ABBY:

Lesson Best Learned Young

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Just before report-card time, our sixth grade teacher told us to write a paragraph grading HER on her personality and teaching ability. She said we could tell about her good points and bad points and nothing would be held against us. Well, I thought she really meant it, so I went ahead and told her what I thought of her. I guess maybe I didn't say enough about her good points and kind of went overboard on her bad points, because my mother just got a letter from the teacher telling everything I wrote, and saying how horrible it was of me. Now my mother is making me write an "I'm sorry" letter to the teacher? Also should I have to write that "I'm sorry" letter? I thank you.

A SIXTH GRADER

Abby

DEAR SIXTH GRADER: I think your teacher was extremely unfair! But your Mom is trying to teach you that although some people insist they want to hear the truth about themselves, if it's unflattering, they resent it. Mom is the boss, Honey, so write that letter, and remember the lesson.

DEAR ABBY: We are expecting our second child in December and we want to know if we should send out birth announcements. I have heard that it is proper to send such announcements for only the FIRST child. But we have many friends and relatives out of the state, and we'd like them to know about this new baby when it comes. What is proper?

DEAR K. F.: It is entirely proper to send out a birth announcement for EACH new arrival.

DEAR ABBY: Tell "LISTENING" she'll never learn anything by listening to her husband talk in his sleep because dream specialists tell us that more lies than truths are told during sleep. I dream the most fantastic dreams and I talk right out loud in my sleep, too, but my husband knows better than to take anything I say seriously. Once I went around the world with Harry Truman (I am a Republican!) and it caused a big national scandal, but Bess didn't mind a bit. Another time Cary Grant and Liberace were fighting over me. To my knowledge I've never dreamt anything sensible in my life.

Hatfield Denies Cut in School Funds Necessary

ST. PAUL (AP) — Tax Commissioner Roland Hatfield says he is standing by his tax estimates and added, "There is not a single bit of evidence indicating the estimates are too high."

Hatfield appeared Monday before a subcommittee of the House Education Committee.

In mid-September, Gov. Karl Rolvaag said Hatfield's estimates were too high. The Chief executive ordered a 5 per cent cut in expenditures, including school aids.

Harvey Otterson of Minneapolis, executive secretary of the Minnesota Federation of Teachers, asked Hatfield, "Would you say the 5 per cent reduction in school aids was not necessary?"

"I have said that many times," Hatfield answered. "I have found no reason to revise our estimates."

U.S. Ship Visits Siberian Port

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP) — The U.S. 7th Fleet oceanographic survey ship Rehoboth returned today after a four-day goodwill visit to the Soviet Siberian port of Nahodka, the U.S. Navy announced.

It said the Rehoboth was the third U.S. Navy ship to visit a Russian port since 1945.

Motorist Fined $30 For Careless Driving

Ralph R. Walczko, 921 E. Sanborn St., pleaded guilty in municipal court today to a charge of careless driving. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $30 or to serve 10 days and paid the fine. He was arrested by police following an accident on Winona Street, near West Broadway, at 9:44 p.m. Sunday.

Some Students In Stenography Still Needed

A few vacancies still exist in the stenographer training course to be given here next month, but the size of the class will be limited and interested persons are asked to apply immediately at the Minnesota State Employment service office.

Applications will be accepted until Nov. 27, according to Ray H. Brown, manager of the employment office. The class, given under the National Manpower Development and Training Act, will begin Dec. 2.

This is the second course in stenography given here under the act. It is part of a nationwide training program financed by the federal government. The aim is to help unemployed or underemployed persons to improve their skills. The course is free. No previous office experience is needed, but applicants must be high school graduates.

Recruitment is handled by the State employment service, and training is given by the Winona Area Vocational - Technical School, under the direction of Tom Raine, area director.

The demand for trained stenographers is strong, Brown said. All graduates of the first class here, which ended Sept. 20, were placed in jobs within a few weeks, he pointed out.

All women living in the area served by the Winona office are eligible for the course. The area includes Winona, Wabasha and Houston counties, Rushford, and the commuting area in Wisconsin.

City Cited for Safety Program

Winona has been awarded a certificate of achievement from the national sponsors of the annual voluntary vehicle safety check for its participation in the annual safety program this year.

Announcement was made in a letter from Mark Markson, chief of the safety promotion section, Minnesota Department of Highways, to John Eifealdt, chairman of the 1963 program for the Automobile Club Safety Council of Winona.

Markson said, "We want to congratulate you and the people who worked with you for having carried out this very important safety program for your fellow citizens."

"Not only did you call attention to the needs for driving a safe vehicle, but the program itself has to impress the drivers with the need for safe driving practices if we are to reduce the rising toll of traffic accidents."

Eisenhower Helps Commemorate Gettysburg Address

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower joined with the nation today in commemorating Abraham Lincoln's immortal Gettysburg Address.

One hundred years ago today, Lincoln participated in ceremonies dedicating the soldier's National Cemetery in this Civil War battlefield town.

Today Eisenhower and other dignitaries were to follow the same parade route Lincoln took to Cemetery Hill where the classic speech was delivered.

Hearing Slated In Hunting Case

A preliminary hearing for Wayne Wenzel, 20, Lewiston, one of four Wyattville area hunters charged with gross misdemeanor game violations, has been set for next Tuesday morning.

Wenzel, his brothers, John A. 21, and Willard V., 19, and Norman H. Eggert, 33, rural Rushford, appeared before Judge John D. McGill in municipal court this morning.

P. S. Johnson, attorney for the hunters, asked that a separate hearing be held for Wayne Wenzel. He said that the complaint against Wayne Wenzel differed from the complaints against the others.

Johnson said that he would make arrangements for the other hearings following the hearing Tuesday and said that possibly the others might be waived. S. A. Sawyer, county attorney, appeared for the state.

The four were arrested by Game Warden Francis Teske at 10:10 p.m. Nov. 7 in a field in Hart Township about three miles south of Wyattville.

He claims that they used the headlights of a car to shine or spot wild game for the purpose of hunting and shooting the game.

The hunters are free on $300 bail.

Winona Funerals

Mary Elaine Wenzel
Miss Mary Elaine Wenzel, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wenzel, 518 E. Wabasha St., died suddenly at her home about 5 a.m. today. She had not been ill.

The family was awakened shortly before 5 when the girl was having difficulty breathing. The father called for the fire department resuscitator at 4:55. Firemen used two tanks in an effort to save her life, but abandoned their efforts at 5:25.

Dr. Robert Tweedy, county coroner, said this morning that an autopsy will be performed to find the cause of death. A family physician was present at the home shortly after firemen arrived.

She was born here July 13, 1947, and had lived here all of her life. She attended St. John's Grade School and was a junior at Cotter High School. A member of St. John's Catholic Church, she also was active in the Catholic Student Mission Crusade and Cotter Pep Club.

Survivors are: Her parents; two brothers, Thomas and Gary, at home, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wenzel, Sr., Lewiston, and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hengel, Rollingstone.

Funeral services will be Thursday at 8:30 a.m. at Watkowski Funeral Home and at 9 a.m. at St. John's Catholic Church, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. James Habiger officiating. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 2 p.m. Wednesday. Rosaries will be recited at 4 p.m. by Cotter High School students and at 8 by Msgr. Habiger.

Jerome Majkowski
Jerome (Harry) Majkowski, 52, Rochester, a Winona resident until five years ago, died at his home suddenly Sunday night.

Born here April 11, 1911, he lived here until moving to Rochester. He was employed at Ability Building Center there. He was a member of the Winona Athletic Club.

Survivors are: His parents, John Palubicki and Mrs. Louise Skok, both of St. Paul, and three brothers, Daniel Palubicki, St. Paul; John Palubicki, Wyoming, and Leonard Palubicki, La Crescent.

Funeral services will be at 9 a.m. Wednesday at St. Stanislaus Church, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. N. F. Grulkowski officiating. A preliminary service will be held at 8:30 a.m. at Borzyskowski Mortuary. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 p.m. today. Members of the Athletic Club will meet there at 7. Rosary will be said at 8.

High-Ranking U.S. Officials Meet in Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP) — High-ranking U.S. officials from Saigon were to arrive in Honolulu today for a top-level strategy meeting on Viet Nam.

Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, and Gen. Paul D. Harkins, head of the U.S. advisory group in the Southeast Asia country, are the vanguard for a full cast which will attend what is becoming known as the "Palm Tree Summit."

Tonight, Robert S. McNamara, secretary of defense, and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, are scheduled to arrive for day-long talks which begin Wednesday.

The State and Defense departments said they want to consult with Lodge on U.S. policy toward the new military-backed provisional government established after the fall of President Ngo Dinh Diem's regime.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk is to arrive in Honolulu Wednesday.

MRS. OLLOM EXPLAINS

Alderman Resigns From Committee

Giving her convictions as the reason, Alderman Mrs. Muriel Ollom resigned Monday night from the City Council committee for new projects and industrial development.

In a brief letter, read just before the close of the regular meeting, Mrs. Ollom outlined her position:

"I realize the need of this committee. My reason for asking to be replaced is the fact the committee is so active in the downtown renewal project.

It doesn't seem honest to be working on a committee and not be able to throw all your working resources toward its program.

"My sentiments are identical with those of Mr. Royal Thern (president of the Winona Chamber of Commerce). I am for improvement of downtown Winona but feel it is a project of the land owner and it is not for us to bring the federal government into local development."

Thern had expressed similar views Nov. 4 when the council voted to request a $77,600 planning grant for redevelopment of a 30-block downtown area.

A slight parliamentary embarrassment arose among aldermen as they voted on a motion to accept the resignation. Ald. Harold Briesath and Steve Morgan voted to oppose acceptance. They didn't want to see Mrs. Ollom leave the committee, they said. Aldermen voting for the motion quickly explained they did so only because they felt she wished them to do so, not because they wanted her removed.

City Council
The city and the company would give 5-year purchase options to each other, Morse said. Under the options a price of $1,250 an acre would be guaranteed. Morse said further expansion of present company facilities is likely.

If adjoining farm land and the Winona Rod & Gun Club property can eventually be acquired by WIDA, Morse said, it will make possible the construction of a new entrance road leading directly from the Minnesota City road on the south.

Street department crews are doing the construction work. Morse said the unofficial go-ahead was given so the project could be finished before the freezeup. Legal descriptions will be drawn by the city attorney and forwarded to the company, whose informal agreement to the swap was given in a letter by Daniel Przybylski, general manager.

Industrial Park Getting Access Road in 'Trade'

Agreement on location of an access road at the city's industrial park was reached by the City Council Monday night, whose members noted construction already is under way.

W. E. Morse, executive director of the Winona Industrial Development Association, explained details of a land use agreement negotiated with Warner & Swasey Co. in return for a roadway easement along the north boundary of its 22-acre tract, W&S will receive rights to use an adjacent 5-acre outlot, the property of the city.

Council Asks Appraisal of Motel Land

Appointment of an appraising team to set a value on the proposed Holiday Inn motel site was asked at Monday night's City Council meeting by Harold Streater, attorney.

Streater made the request on behalf of Perry Phillips and Sidney Neate, Columbia, Mo., who have the Holiday Inn franchise for this area. The appraisal should be completed in time for consideration at the Dec. 2 meeting of the council, Streater said.

The proposed site is five acres of lakeshore just west of the intersection of High 61 and Huff street.

IF THE price is right, he will ask for a 150-day option to buy the land, Streater said. Should this be granted, the developers then will inaugurate action to rezone the area from R-1 (Single family residential) to R-3 (multi-family residential) classification. Motels are permitted in R-3 areas where the land fronts on highways.

Streater said studies show it will cost an estimated $50,000 to condition the land for construction. However, if the rezoning petition is denied, it would have no value to his clients, he said, and the option would not be exercised.

The developers are not asking for help, Streater said, because they have the necessary money, should the location be made available. He said:

"They don't want to option it, then sit on it. They want this resolved now."

W. G. FRANZEN, 1124 W. Broadway, had asked the council a few minutes earlier whether public hearings would be held on the proposed land sale. Franzen said he represented "a group of interested people" whom he declined to identify further.

Streater cited provisions of the zoning code which require public hearings by the Board of Zoning Appeals and later by the council when it considers the board's recommendation in the matter.

Aldermen voted to appoint John Steffen and Edward Hartert, city realtors, as appraisers.

Hockert-Merrill Vows Said At St. Paul's

St. Paul's Catholic Church, Minnesota City, was the setting for the marriage of Miss Dee Lynn Merrill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Merrill, Minnesota City, and Charles W. Hockert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arby Hockert, Minneapolis.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George Moudry, Nov. 9.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, approached the altar in a gown of silk face peau de soie fashioned in a sheath silhouette with a detachable chapel train cascading from the back waistline. The modified scoop neckline and long sleeves of the bodice and three overlapping panels graduating from the waist to the hemline of the sheath were accented by crescents of lace and re-embroidered seed pearls.

A tiny white feather crown overlaid with a cascade of feathers held the veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of red long-stemmed roses tied with a matching red satin ribbon.

MISS KAY O'Brien, Winona, was maid of honor and Miss Fay Walske, Galesville, was bridesmaid. Both young women wore identical frocks of emerald-green satin, floor-length skirts over sheaths, with matching headpieces of emerald-green veiling on emerald-green circlets of satin and seed pearls. They each carried three long-stemmed red roses, identical to the bride's, tied with a red satin ribbon.

James Larson, Minneapolis, was best man and Daniel Hockert, Minneapolis, was his brother's groomsmen. Bruce Merrill, brother of the bride, and Robert Hockert, brother of the groom, ushered.

The soloist was Scott Kildahl, Minneapolis, accompanied by Mrs. Marvin O'Grady, organist.

THE BRIDE'S mother wore

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hockert

a sage-green wool sheath with matching sage green pillbox hat and veil. The bridegroom's mother wore a beige dress overlaid with aqua and blue flowers. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations and sweetheart roses.

A bridal dinner was held at the Oaks Supper Club, Minnesota City, following the ceremony. A reception was held later at "Birch Echo," home of the bride's parents.

Assisting at the reception were the Misses Marge Sandness, Bea Loeding and Winifred Steinke and the Misses Barbara Wera, Judy Strommer, Arlene Monahan, Kaye Wernecke, and Sandra Betsinger.

The bride was entertained at

Senior Citizens Have Christmas Craft Meeting

The Golden Years Senior Citizens at their Christmas craft meeting at Lake Park Lodge Friday, not only saw Mrs. Erwin Bittner demonstrate crafts for the holidays, but also displayed their own handiwork.

Some of the members had made a quilt which was given to the Salvation Army and others brought things they had made to sell. The group voted to donate money for Christmas Seals in the spirit of holiday giving.

About 60 members attended and congratulated Mrs. Louise Butke and Mrs. Elizabeth Egert on their November birthdays and Andrew Theis on his October birthday.

Apple turkeys, made by Mrs. Dorothy Wheeler, were given as prizes. Mrs. O. E. Olson was given a rising vote of thanks for her work with the group over a long period of time. Mrs. Bittner is to take her place as the new leader.

Mrs. Paul Griesel Sr. served a lunch, assisted by Mrs. Bittner, Olson, Griesel and Wheeler.

Kellogg PTA Notes Education Week

KELLOGG, Minn. (Special)—In observance of American Education week, the Kellogg Elementary School PTA held its annual open house, room visitation and regular monthly PTA meeting Wednesday evening at the Kellogg school. One hundred parents and friends attended.

The business session with president Eugene Behrens presiding preceded the room visitation. The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag by group and PTA Prayer was led by Rev. Robert Dunn.

Principal Robert Meyer gave the report of the PTA carnival Oct. 31 of which he was general chairman and thanked all who participated.

On display was the high projector stand and record cabinet presented to the school by the PTA.

PTA members voted to again sponsor a skating rink on the same location as previous years. Connie Steurnagel and Eugene Behrens were named chairmen.

Mrs. Harold Peters, membership chairman, reported 104 members registered and paid up to date.

The kindergarten class room and their teacher, Mrs. Clemen

Heins, were awarded the attendance prize.

Kellogg mayor Victor Holland spoke to the group in regard to sports activity during winter months for local youngsters. He said the Kellogg Municipal Auditorium would be available, but supervision would have to be the big factor. Discussion followed. Rev. Robert Dunn and Mayor Victor Holland were named chairmen.

Superintendent of the Wabasha and Kellogg Schools, Wesley Concidine spoke briefly in regard to the Kellogg PTA good attendance at their meetings, wonderful cooperation and the much interest in school and the presentations to their school here.

It was voted to again distribute apples and popcorn balls to students at Kellogg school at Christmas time. Volunteer mothers will make the popcorn balls. Mr. Meyer announced the annual school Christmas program will be held Dec. 19 in the school auditorium.

In observance of American Education Week Kellogg American Legion Auxiliary honored local teachers with visits and presented them with corsages, men teachers boutonnières. Auxiliary president Mrs. Eugene Deming and Mrs. Harris Wilson made the presentations.

During the visitation period, parents were given the opportunity to see their children's classrooms, view the study materials and meet their teachers. Lunch was served following the visitation in the school cafeteria with Mrs. Warren Graner as chairman.

Serve icy cold cranberry juice cocktail pretied with pineapple spears for a zippy before dinner cocktail.

100 Attend Alma Friends Night

ALMA, Wis. (Special)—About a hundred attended the Friends Night party given by the Alma Order of Eastern Star Friday night. Lodges from Winona, Pepin, Durand, Mondovi, Wabasha and Cannon Falls were represented. Worthy Matrons and Worthy Patrons were presented from all of the towns.

Mrs. Oscar Stirn and Mrs. Howard Achenbach were in charge of the entertainment which followed the meeting.

Mrs. Arvin Thompson, Alma worthy matron, announced that election of officers will be held at the Dec. 6 meeting. Mmes. E. H. Malone, Harry Laufelburger, Lloyd Bond and Howard Mohrk will serve. The Christmas party will be held Dec. 20.

Following the entertainment, a pot luck lunch was served. Mmes. Andrew Jost, S. C. Richtman, Minnie Harrison, and Walter Dierauer assisted in the kitchen.

Second Card Party At VFW Clubrooms

The second in a series of public card parties planned for the winter months by the kitchen committee of the VFW Club will be held in the clubrooms Thursday at 2 p.m.

Awards for high scores at each table will be made and a special prize will be given and lunch served.

Proceeds are to be used for remodeling the kitchen and new kitchen equipment.

Foreign Relief Projects Listed for CCW Members

Foreign relief projects of the Council of Catholic Women were listed by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. J. Richard Feiten at the meeting of the Cathedral of the Sacred Heart Council Monday evening in the church hall.

Among services listed were a clothing drive which last year helped the needy in 47 countries; a sale of dolls, mandarin bags and stoles for the benefit of widows in Hong Kong; Christmas card sale and sewing articles for the Pope's Storehouse. Donations for the clothing drive next week are to be brought to the St. Augustine room.

Mrs. Patrick Maloney, president, commented on the success of the Cathedral Fair and thanked the women who worked on fair projects. Guild projects announced by Mrs. Wayne Himmick, guild coordinator, include a Christmas gift sale Dec. 1 in the church hall; a cooking school to be sponsored by St. Bernadette's Guild Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the church hall, and the Christmas concert to be sponsored by St. Rita's Guild Dec. 8 at 8:15 p.m. in Winona Senior High School auditorium. St. Teresa's Guild served coffee. Miss Margaret Driscoll and Mrs. Donald Vollmer are guild chairmen.

Sixth graders of the Junior Red Cross craft group will meet after school Wednesday in Lucas Lodge, Red Cross Chapter House. Directed by Mrs. Ralph Legreid, they will make 189 Christmas favors for the forthcoming Senior Citizens Christmas party.

The three basic principles: communitative (order), associative (grouping) and distributive. Dr. Hopf explained many of the terms used, such as "clock" arithmetic and "lattice" arithmetic.

"This was a very informative program and all parents are urged to attend any such programs if given the opportunity," a PTA parent said.

Room attendance prizes went to John Zierdt's fifth grade and Miss Fern Ellison's fourth grade. A special prize was donated by Mrs. Don Walski. The fifth grade mothers were in charge of refreshments.

MR. AND MRS. ALVIN A. GROTH are at home near Ridgeway, Minn., following their marriage Nov. 9 at St. Matthew's Lutheran Church parsonage here. The Rev. A. L. Mennicke officiated and attendants were Misses Judy and Ruth Lahm; William Katula and Henry Wiczorek. The bride is the former Elsie Husmann, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Husmann. Exciting New Math Idea Presented At Central PTA

Central Elementary PTA met Monday night at the school. Mrs. Robert Krick, president, presided at the business meeting. The School Belles opened the program by singing several selections under the direction of Mrs. T. Charles Green.

Dr. Carroll Hopf, director of elementary education in the public schools, was the guest speaker. His topic "Modern Mathematics" was an interesting and fascinating subject, his listeners reported.

Dr. Hopf stated, "Modern math utilizes a discovery approach, represents a change in emphasis and somewhat a movement of content. It is a discovery rather than an expository approach to arithmetic."

Basically the new math is a re-emphasis of something we have already had, he said. It is geared to all levels of ability and gives a real challenge to the bright or gifted child. Great care is exercised, he pointed out, in selecting materials for different grade levels to give the child a better background in

Vocational Education Talk Heard by PTA Of Jefferson School

Jefferson PTA members, meeting Monday evening in the school auditorium, heard Ronald Strand speak on "Vocational Education." Mr. Strand, coordinator of Distributive Education in the Winona Public Schools explained what "Distributive Education" is, what its goals are, how they are achieved, who sponsors the programs and what types of distributive education exist. Also explained was how the programs operate and how individuals can help make vocational education more practical and effective.

The business meeting was presided over by Harvey Ganong, vice president. The pledge to the Flag was led by Scouts Chris Bauer and Tom Grindland of Jefferson Troop 14. James Anderson spoke on the valuable contents of the PTA magazine and passed out a written report of the State PTA convention held at Rochester. A five minute message from National PTA president Margaret E. Jenkins on National Education Week was heard, via a recording.

Mr. Ganong announced that Dr. M. L. DeBolt had been appointed safety chairman and Mrs. Eugene Frank and Mrs. Edward Holz is in charge of choir robes. Mrs. Eugene Frank and Mrs. Gordon Nyseth were thanked for their assistance to the citywide UNICEF program.

The School Belles, led by Mrs. T. Charles Green, entertained with a group of songs. "Let There Be Music," "I Feel Pretty," (from West Side Story), "Shenandoah," (Mrs. Helen Stephenson as soloist); and an African Noel.

A fourth grade room won the attendance banner.

Refreshments were served by the sixth grade room mothers.

Fra Junipero Serra, whose mission settlements in California grew into great cities, was born on the island of Majorca. Miss Ann Fishbauger Gives Travelogue on Mexico Before Club

Chautauqua Club members were taken on a delightful trip to Mexico with Miss Ann Fishbauger, via her slides and talk of her tour. The tour was comprised of a group of 34 Winona State College students under the direction of Dr. Daniel Hoyt. They left Winona on July 17 and returned Aug. 5.

In Mexico City they visited the University of Mexico with about 22 buildings, many of which are made with Mosaic tile and designs showing the Indian and Spanish history and art.

About 2000 of the students there are American. The tourists attended the Ballet Folklorico de Mexico; a bullfight (which starts promptly at 4 p.m., the bull which is killed is given to charity), and a drive through the Mexican "Beverly Hills" section where they saw one home made all of glass.

About 20 miles from Mexico City, they visited the Pyramids of the Sun and Moon which cover about 3½ square miles of Aztec Indian ruins. These were uncovered from 1909-1921 and have many beautiful carvings in the interiors. The 247 step descent is more difficult than the ascent, Miss Fishbauger said.

A highlight of the visit to Mexico City was visiting and being entertained by a woman whom Miss Fishbauger had met at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester when she was also a patient there.

On the visit to Taxco, the silver mining city, the bus had to be left at the edge of town because the streets were too narrow. The hotel the group stayed in was built in 1620 but has been remodeled recently.

At San Jose, Purva they visited what the speaker said, was 2½ square miles of Paradise — the mineral pools, the caves and the countryside were so beautiful. The Island of Janitzio, where they saw the butterfly net fisherman and observed the fishing nets all being made by hand, was a different experience. Toluca was the basket weaving center and needless to say, all came home with Mexican baskets, said Miss Fishbauger.

Carvings, puppets and baskets from her trip were on display. Dessert was served by the hostess, Mrs. George Engstrom, with Mrs. Arnold Stoa presiding at the serving table.

Stock Market Up After 3 Days of Sliding

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market staged a good recovery early this afternoon from three straight sessions of decline. Trading was moderately active. A number of blue chips which declined Monday despite encouraging corporate news made gains of fractions to 1 or 2 points.

Steels, motors, utilities, chemicals, electronics and most of the volatile "glamour" issues moved ahead. The oils rebounded irregularly from recent selling on news of the Argentine takeover of American oil properties there.

Rails nudged ahead slightly on balance. Airlines and electrical equipments were unevenly higher. Tobacco slipped fractionally. Rubbers were off a bit on balance.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.2 at 277.3 with industrials up 2.1, rails up .2 and utilities up .6.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 4.03 at 738.88.

General Motors advanced 2 points despite Du Pont's plans to make an additional distribution of 17 million shares of GM stock.

Du Pont rose more than 2. Chrysler, just about erased its previous decline of 1½. Ford and American Motors were steady.

Continental Steel, which boosted its dividend, gained nearly a point. U. S. Steel was steady, Republic and Jones & Laughlin added fractions.

Standard Oil (New Jersey), which fell 1½ Monday, more than canceled that loss. Indiana Standard came back nearly a point. Texaco was firm.

Polaroid was up about 4. Control Data 3, IBM 2.

Bulova was heavily traded and ahead 2 points or so.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mixed in moderate trading.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds were irregularly higher.

City Prep Cage Teams to Open

LET'S TALK SPORTS

with Gary Evans

BERNIE BENSON brought his Peterson High School varsity to Winona Saturday morning for a scrimmage with the Winhawks of Winona High.

With three all-conference players returning from last year's Root River championship team, the Petes are rated as the class of District One and the high school gym was crowded with people anxious to get a look at both teams.

Peterson — with Merton Boyum, Stan Gudmundson and Stan Olson leading the way — ran with the Hawks for two hours.

The first part of the scrimmage was even, but later numbers told the tale and Winona High, subbing by units, appeared to hold the upper hand.

"We could be tough," said Benson. "But we aren't too deep. This is our big problem."

Peterson was hampered considerably by the weather Saturday. Several of the players were forced to stay home to work and only seven were on hand to 21 for the Winhawks.

The first part of the get together was played without the benefit of artificial light as a transformer at the school was being repaired and the only light available came through the windows above the balcony.

AN INTERESTED spectator at the scrimmage was Wulf Krause, who a year ago led the Hawks in scoring and placed second in the conference in that department.

Krause this year again is at work on the hard court, but this time at Gustavus Adolphus College, St. Peter.

Krause has all smiles when he stopped in the coaches' office after the scrimmage to inform Kenney that he had survived the final cut and was a member of the Gustie varsity.

"We've got a young team," said Krause. "Only one varsity member is a senior and he won't start."

What are Krause's chances for seeing action?

"I don't know right now," smiled Wulf. "I'm just happy I made the cut."

Local fans will have a chance to look at Krause in a college uniform Feb. 1 when the Gusties invade Terrace Heights for a contest with St. Mary's.

Also on hand at the scrimmage was Bob Board, who coached Winona High's wrestling team to a third place finish in District Three last year.

Board this year migrated to Anoka where he teaches and coaches wrestling.

The former Winhawk coach was interested in seeing Hawk grapplers work, but the transformer failure kept them out of action.

Bids were to be opened today for the new St. Mary's College Gymnasium, the first phase of the Student Activities Center complex.

Present estimates of cost range from $750,000 to a hoped-for $800,000.

The new, and much needed, athletic plant will be composed of an upper and lower level. The multi-purpose main floor will house three individual basketball courts, each separated by portable partitions. Pole inserts will convert these areas into indoor tennis and volleyball courts.

Folding bleachers will seat up to 3,000 spectators for varsity cage games.

Also provided will be four handball courts, locker and shower facilities and space for an extensive intramural program on the lower level. Accommodations will also be included for the addition of a swimming pool and an air conditioning system.

If the weather holds, construction on the new building may begin yet this year with October 1964 set as probable completion date.

No one is more anxious for the new building than Ken Willgen, Redmen cage coach.

For years now, Willgen has watched his team humble opponents at home and then go to pieces on the road.

"We need a big gym," he says. "When we go on the road and play in the bigger places, the kids are lost."

ONCE AGAIN it's time to start picking the results of area games. After a slow football start, we wound up with 52 of 75 right for a .693 percentage (.600 with handicaps).

Now for tonight's basketball: Pepin over Arkansas by 6; Blair over Taylor by 5; Alma over C-F by 1; Whitehall over Trempealeau by 8; Holmen over Onalaska Luther by 10; Cashton over Melrose by 6; Bangor over New Lisbon by 9; Chippewa Falls McDonnell over Lima Sacred Heart by 2; Altoona over Augusta by 6; Arcadia over Osseo by 5; Neillsville over Alma Center by 1; Elmwood over Durand by 1; Menomonie over Mondovi by 3.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Diminutive senior halfback Jerry Pelletier has turned out to be one of the most offensive threats the Minnesota Gophers have had this season.

Pelletier, a mighty mite as Big Ten football players go at 155 pounds, leads the Gophers in pass receiving and punt returns. In addition, he's second in rushing, third in scoring and has a pass interception to his credit.

Pelletier has caught eight passes for 102 yards, returned

13 punts for 132 yards, rushed 49 times for 225 yards and a 4.7 average, and scored two touchdowns.

FOR BATTLE WITH STEELERS

Halas May Need 'War Plan' Sunday

NEW YORK (AP) — Hanging out the pro football wash, and don't forget to take the "War Plan" out of George Halas' pants pocket before you stick the trousers in the machine.

Papa Bear Halas may need that plan again Sunday, when the Chicago Bears meet the tough Steelers at Pittsburgh. The Bears followed Halas' written instructions to the letter against the Green Bay Packers for a 26-7 victory Sunday but it isn't over yet in the Western Conference of the NFL.

"I'd rather be playing any team in the league than the Steelers," Halas said. "They are tough and punishing."

Despite their two victories over the defending champion Packers, it may take a win over the Steelers to avoid a playoff with Green Bay. The Packers, now 8-2, have a pretty soft road home the next four weeks. San Francisco twice, Los Angeles and Detroit. The Bears, 9-1, have Minnesota, San Francisco and Detroit, after the Steelers.

They laughed when the Chicago offensive line got down on its haunches, before the Packers game. The Bears, with the rightest defense in the league, had been having trouble making touchdowns. Offensive line coach Phil Handler pointed out the situation in a fanciful story. He claimed he accidentally jostled a woman far after a game, and said: "No offense, madam." "That's right, young man," was the supposed reply. "But after the Packers game, they gave Handler the game ball, because of the way his troops performed."

Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi agreed the Bears were great. But he added: "If we finish second now, we will be the best team that ever finished second."

Things aren't over in the Eastern Conference, either, despite the one-game lead held by the New York Giants. The Giants are home to the St. Louis Cardinals Sunday. The Cards are tied for second with the Cleveland Browns, and they trimmed the Browns 20-14 last Sunday. After the Giants-Cardinals game, the Cards meet the Browns again. The two games should settle the Eastern race.

The Giants beat the Cardinals 38-21 earlier this season.

Injured Badgers Rejoin Squad

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin's three ailing standouts participated in a light workout Monday as the Badgers launched preparations for the 1963 football windup Saturday at Minnesota.

Joining their teammates in the brief running and passing drill were fullback Ralph Kurek, safety specialist Ron Frain and end Jimmy Jones.

Kurek twisted an ankle and spent most of the time on the bench in the 17-7 defeat by Illinois last Saturday. Frain pulled a groin muscle and retired in the first period, while Jones sat out the game because of an eye injury suffered a week earlier.

Nowatzke Holds Scoring Lead

CHICAGO (AP) — Fullback Tom Nowatzke of Indiana remained in the lead in the Big Ten all-games football scoring race after tallying nine points in a losing effort against Oregon.

Nowatzke has six touchdowns, five field goals and six extra points for a total of 57 points. Sherman Lewis, Michigan State's speedy halfback, pulled into second place with 48 points. Roger Lopes of Michigan State and Lou Holland of Wisconsin were tied for third with 42 points each.

Winona High, Cotter Will Start at Home

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor.

If the rumor is correct, high school basketball in Winona this year should be very entertaining.

City cage fans can decide for themselves whether or not that is correct this weekend. Winona High gets the season under way Friday night by playing host to Harmony at the high school auditorium at 8 p.m.

Cotter starts its season by meeting St. Paul Hill at St. Stan's at 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

"B" squad games will proceed both contests.

WINONA HIGH

At Winona High, John Kenney is working overtime in an attempt to settle on a starting five. Two spots are still up for grabs.

Steve Keller and Pat Boland, both letterwinners a year ago, appear to have guard spots won and Bill Squires, who starred as a pass catching end on Jim Elliott's football team, will most likely open at left forward.

The pivot and right forward positions are the subject of controversy at the moment. Lettermen are being challenged by underclassmen at both spots.

John Duet, 6-3 and a letterman, is waging a battle with Dennis Duran, 6-2, for the forward spot and Jim Kasten, 6-3 and a starter throughout the season last year, is warring with 6-4 junior John Brandt for the center spot.

"We're kicking around those seven kids for five spots," said Kenney. "If Harmony runs a zone against us Tony Kreuzer could open at right forward."

Kreuzer is one of the team's better shots, and should Harmony run a press — something that wouldn't surprise Kenney — would give the Hawks additional support in the ball handling department.

COTTER

The situation at Cotter isn't unlike the one at Winona High. John Nett is grooming six boys for the five starting positions.

"We won't know until later in the week who will be starting," said Nett.

Mike Jerecek and Russ Fisk have been working at the center position. Fisk also may see action at a forward spot along with Bob Judge.

John Nett Jr., has been working at both a forward and guard position as has Gene Schultz. Rick Starzecki is a prime back court candidate.

Nett is in the dark as to what to expect from Hill.

"We have the list of their players," said Nett, "and he (Coach Ralph Costello) has one kid back that scored 15 points against us in our first game with them a year ago. From there on, I don't know what to expect. He played a double post a year ago, but has talked about changing his entire system. We'll just have to wait until Sunday to see."

Should he so choose, Nett could take a look at the Pioneer Saturday night. Hill plays at Rochester Lourdes that night.

Sid Luckman Wins Tax Suit

CHICAGO (AP) — Sid Luckman, former Chicago Bears' quarterback, won a tax suit in circuit court Monday.

Luckman, now a Bears coach, was defendant in a suit brought by Attorney General William G. Clark asking $39,895.

The sum represented sales taxes owed the state by Sid Luckman Motors Inc., an auto agency, during the years 1951 through 1953.

Judge William V. Brothers ruled that Luckman could not be held personally liable for a debt incurred by the business.

Bauer to Manage Orioles for '64?

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles are expected to announce today the appointment of coach Hank Bauer as manager for the 1964 season.

Lee MacPhail, general manager, although parrying questions to name names, said a new manager has definitely been chosen.

Billy Hitchcock was dismissed as manager seven months ago.

Bauer joined the Orioles at the end of the 1962 season and served as third base coach under the departed Hitchcock last year.

The veteran New York Yankee outfielder managed the Kansas City Athletics for a season and a half, succeeding Joe Gordon in June 1961 and resigning at the end of the 1962 season.

Kansas City, under Bauer's tutelage, finished in a tie for ninth place with Washington in 1961 and had ninth all to itself in 1962.

Hull Shares Scoring Lead

MONTREAL (AP) — Chicago's bold, blond Bobby Hull, booming along at a pace faster than his 50-goal season of 1961-62, has moved into a share of the National Hockey League's scoring lead, league statistics released today show.

The powerful left-winger whipped in five goals — including a hat trick Sunday — and added three assists in three games last week. That increased his production to a league leading 12 goals. He had only five at the same stage of his 50-goal season.

Hull shares the scoring lead with Montreal's Jean Beliveau, each with 26 points.

The Black Hawks are eight points in front of the rest of the pack.

The Hawks' Glenn Hall also leads the goalies in the race for the Vezina Trophy. Hall and his alternate Denis DeJordy have allowed only 35 goals in 17 games.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The power-poor Kansas City Athletics paid a high price in talent to Detroit for slugger Rocky Colavito, but owner Charles Finley predicted Colavito will hit 40 home runs — and said he will move in the left field fence to help him.

The A's gave up Jerry Lumpe, one of baseball's better second basemen, and two front-line right-handed pitchers, Dave Wickersham and Ed Rakow. Kansas City also received Bob Anderson, a right-handed relief pitcher, plus an unannounced sum of cash.

"Certainly it's a gamble," Finley said.

"We weren't winning with Lumpe and our pitching. We've got rookie Dick Green, a fine fielder, at second base. His bat is a question mark, but that's just another gamble we had to take. We think Manager Ed Lopat can help Anderson."

Colavito has hit 222 homers in the past six seasons, more than any other American League hitter in the same period. In eight full seasons in the majors, he has averaged 33.5 homers and 100.4 runs batted in. His lifetime batting average is .271.

The handsome 6-foot-3 200-pounder had 91 RBI last season. Finley said the left field fence would be moved in "at least to the 325-foot mark" for Colavito. The fence is now 331 feet from the plate down the line and 364 in left-center.

Lumpe, a left-handed batter, hit .271 with 59 RBI last season after a bad start. He had a lifetime average of .279 before last season. Lumpe's best year was .301 with 10 homers and 83 RBI in 1962.

Wickersham won 12 and lost 15 last season with a 4.06 earned run average. Rakow was 9-10 with 3.98, and Anderson 3-1 with 3.30 in 60 innings.

WHITEHALL, AUGUSTA MENTIONED

Blair Top Pick in Dairyland

According to Dairyland Conference coaches, Blair will win its second straight title in that evenly balanced circuit.

The Cardinals shared the title last year with Alma Center, but appear to have the horses to win it outright this season. The Cards should be trailed by Whitehall and Augusta with Eleva-Strum and Independence given an outside shot at the crown.

WHITEHALL

If preseason opinion means anything, first year Coach Cy Buker may be harboring the next Dairyland Conference champion at Whitehall.

Buker has only three lettermen back for his first year at the helm of the Norsemen, but all have considerable talent. Whitehall ended the last campaign with a 3-16 mark, but could easily reverse that record.

The big man of the returnees is 6-3 senior Dan Hanson. Dave Amundson hits the six-foot mark, and Tom Brown is the midjet of the crew at 5-6. If Buker can find two steady players from his prospects, the Norsemen could row into the title.

BLAIR

"We are small but have some experienced players. If some of the younger boys come around, we could finish in the top four."

That's the way Tony Fiore describes Blair's chances for another fine season similar to 1962-63 when the Cardinals rolled up a 10-2 conference record and finished 12-6 overall.

One position Fiore isn't worried about is center where John Woyicki, 6-6 senior, will be operating all season. Woyicki won the conference scoring title as a junior.

Other lettermen back are Jim Rawson, 6-0 senior forward; Dennis Thompson, 5-10 senior forward; Carl Aubart, 5-8 junior guard, and John McAuliffe, 5-8 junior guard.

Help could come from such outstanding prospects as: Eugene Berg, 5-7 senior guard; Eugene Johnson, 5-10 senior forward; Ron Toraason, 5-9 senior forward; Ron Meissner, 5-10 junior guard-forward; Ken Nereng, 5-6 junior guard, and Dennis Swiggum, 5-7 senior guard.

COCHRANE-FOUNTAIN CITY

With only three letterwinners back and a definite height disadvantage, Cochrane-Fountain City coach Tom Caulkins feels his team could be in for a long season.

"We will have a young team," he says. "We have a good crop of sophomores. If they come along fast, we could surprise some people."

Caulkins has two senior lettermen back. Both stand 6-0. Dave Florin and John Wolfe are forward-centers. Dan Dittich, a 5-10 junior forward, is the only underclassman to letter.

Help could come from a trio of juniors and a quintet of sophomores.

The juniors are: David Benning, 5-7 guard; Ricky Flurry, 5-9 guard, and Robert Wolfe, 5-9 guard. The sophomores are: Rich Abbs, 5-7 guard; Hal Chedester, 5-9 guard; Jack Grable, 5-10 center; Dennis Auer, 5-9 forward, and Mike Baeker, 6-1 forward.

AUGUSTA

A new coach and a quintet of veterans will hold the pendulum of Augusta's basketball success this season.

Bob Johnson is the new mentor and will be at the helm of a Beaver team which won five of 18 games last season. Chief among the Augusta returning lettermen will be Jim Osborn, a 5-11 senior, who led the team in scoring. A pair of rangy monogram wearers will give the Beavers good strength under the boards. They are Ron Honadel, 6-2, and Steve Swartz, 6-3. The other two returnees are Ron Buchholz, 5-10, and Bill Ries, 5-11.

Good height in the reserves is another asset for Johnson. He expects to get heavy duty from 6-1 junior Mike Harden and 6-4 senior center Dean Solle. More help may come from Tom Hall, Dick Osborn, Pat Vinopal, Ted Ries and Terry Anderson.

ELEVA-STRUM

In a agreement with most league coaches, Richard Salava of Eleva-Strum agrees that the Dairyland Conference will be much stronger this year.

His Cardinal cagers may be a good example of the upsurge. Nine lettermen are back from last year's squad which posted a 3-16 mark. The veterans include only a pair of seniors, prompting Salava to comment: "I don't think we'll win the title, but teams will have to play ball to beat us."

The two seniors returning are Gary and Garth Larson, both ranging just a little shy of the six-foot mark. A half dozen juniors who will wear the Cardinal uniform this year are Greg Finstad, 5-10, Tom Kunes, 5-11, Joe Mitchell, 5-9, Steve Gibson, 5-9, John Dinkel, 6-3, and Jerry Vetterkind, 6-2. The lone sophomore letterman is Jeff Havens, 5-11. Top prospect among the top non-lettermen is Tim Bue, a 6-0 sophomore.

INDEPENDENCE

Four lettermen return at Independence where Carl Richards will seek to improve on a 7-5 Dairyland Conference record.

The Indians a year ago finished 12-6 overall.

Back for another year are lettermen Connie Marsolek, 6-0 senior forward; Paul Kulig, 6-1 senior forward; Tony Brickner, 5-8 senior guard, and Jack Bisek, 6-7 junior center and one of the tallest performers in the conference.

Top prospects include: Senior—Dan Symick, 5-8 guard, Juniors—Jack Helgeson, 5-9 forward; Doug Smieja, 5-9 guard; Pat Myers, 5-8 guard, and Vito Kampa, 5-7 guard. Sophomores—Bob Edmundson, 5-6 guard.

ALMA CENTER

Generally speaking, a coach with only one returning letterman isn't optimistic.

Such is the case at Alma Center Lincoln where coach Dick Saarela greets just one returning starter.

Experience is the major problem as only starter and letterman Vince Ruzic, 6-1 senior forward, returns.

To add to Saarela's apparent problems, outstanding prospect Bob Czarnik, 6-1 senior forward, will miss the first part of the season because of a wrist injury.

Outstanding prospects include: Senior—Bob Kaas, 5-6 guard, Juniors—Gary Cummings, 6-4 center; Dave Hayden, 5-11 guard; Dave Mayer, 5-11 guard; Norm Seguin, 6-1 forward, and Ray Hart, 5-7 guard.

A year ago the Hornets wound up 10-2 in Dairyland play and 15-4 overall.

OSSEO

A team which broke even at 6-6 in the conference and 10-10 overall last season, Osseo will have come on fast to match that record.

Only three lettermen return to Coach Chuck Hoffman's squad, and things don't look rosy for help from last year's reserves.

"We just plain lack experience," says Hoffman. "The three veterans which will have to carry the brunt of the chieftain attack are Ken Anderson, 6-1, Bruce Brecklin, 6-0, and Steve Higley, 5-7.

BAUER NAMED ORIOLE BOSS

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles ended seven weeks of suspense today by officially naming Hank Bauer their new field manager, an announcement that no longer surprised anyone.

The 41-year-old Bauer had been first choice in the minds of most local guessers as soon as Billy Hitchcock was fired at the end of the 1963 season.

The Orioles said Bauer had signed a one-year pact. Terms were not disclosed.

Proffitt to Check Two Pitchers

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A couple of high-priced arms are being examined here this week by Minnesota Twins physician Dr. William E. Proffitt. What he finds wrong with them could have a heavy bearing on the club's hopes for 1964.

Southpaw Gerry Roggenbuck who signed for $12,000, and Jim Roland, who was handed a $50,000 bonus, are coming to town to have Proffitt check their ailing left arms.

Roggenbuck, who may have bone chips, was to be examined today, while Roland will get his wing checked Thursday. Roland missed much of last season because of elbow problems.

St. John's May Drop Hockey

ST. PAUL (AP)—Minnesota Intercollegiate Conference representatives, meeting here Monday, voted to approve starting the next football season a week later.

St. John's University notified the conference it likely will drop out of hockey competition next year because it lacks an indoor arena.

The faculty recommended the MIAC play round-robin schedules in track, golf and tennis next spring.

CASARES HURT

CHICAGO (AP)—Fullback Rick Casares of the Chicago Bears suffered an ankle separation to his right foot in Sunday's 26-7 victory over Green Bay and will be lost for the season.

Flatley Now

In Blue Chip Grid Category

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The Minnesota Vikings can't lay claim to many blue chip players in the National Football League, but in less than one season end Paul Flatley has placed himself in that category with his pass-snaring feats.

When Flatley latched onto seven of Fran Tarkenton's aeriels Sunday against Baltimore for 156 yards he broke the Viking record for yards' gain on pass receptions in one game. Charley Ferguson held the old mark of 130 against the Chicago Bears last year.

Flatley now has caught 42 passes this season for 644 yards and four touchdowns. He has four games in which to erase Jerry Reichow's team records for most caught in a season, (50) and most yards (859).

"He's really coming along," Coach Norm Van Brocklin said of Flatley. "He's going to be a great boy."

Halback Tommy Mason made a big jump on the Viking rushing log Sunday when he churned for 146 yards in 12 carries. He's now rushed for 609 yards in 120 carries, a 5.1 average.

Tarkenton still is ahead of his 1962 passing pace. He's completed 143 of 250 tosses for 57 per cent. His aeriels have gone for 1,923 yards and 13 touchdowns, while having 12 intercepted.

Kicker Fred Cox regained the Viking scoring lead with two field goals and four extra points Sunday. Cox has 46 points on six field goals and 20 straight conversion kicks. Mason is second with seven touchdowns for 42 points.

The opponents continue to kill the Vikings in the first and fourth quarters. The opposition has outscored the Minnesotans 88-31 in the opening round and 103-59 in the final stanza. The Vikings hold a 68-63 scoring edge in the second period and a 56-34 margin in the third.

Zwolak Unhappy With Record Time

NEW YORK (AP)—About all Villanova's Vic Zwolak managed to do in Monday's NCAA cross-country championships was retain his title in record time.

He said he was disappointed. His time in the 55th annual championships was 24:46.8. "I figured I could do much better than that," said the Wild-card senior who bettered his own record of 24:57.3 set last year. His time also was a course record for the five-mile grind at Van Cortlandt Park.

Jurgenson Given OK to Play Sunday

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Quarterback Sonny Jurgenson, out four weeks with a right shoulder separation, has been given the go ahead to commence full practice today with the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League.
